Aged Man Is Killed When Knocked Down By Ice Truck

14-YEAR-OLD YOUTH HELD BY OFFICERS

Lad Reported to Be Minus Driver's License and Too Young to Operate INQUEST THURSDAY

Accident Occurs on Second And Walnut Streets at 5:30 O'clock at Night

J. PALMER, 70, painter, of 801 Spurgeon street, was almost instantly killed at 5:30 o'clock last night when he was knocked to the pavement from his bicycle at Second and Main streets, by an ice truck, driven by Howard Barker, 14 of 842 West Walnut street.

Barker was arrested by police officers, and is being held in the county detention home on instructions of the district attorney's office. Officers reported that he did not have a driver's license and was too young to own a chauffeur's license.

Palmer was on his way home at the time of the accident. On his bicycle was a number of groceries he was taking to the home in a house at the rear of 801 Spurgeon street, where he lived alone. The groceries were scattered over the street.

Officers called an ambulance which rushed the man to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, but he died on the way. The body was removed to the Winblier Mission funeral home and Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold an inquest over the body at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, he announced.

Barker was driving an ice truck registered to Thomas Fielding, of the Johnny On the Spot Ice company at the time it was reported. Jack Holly, 15, 1030 West Myrtle street, and Guy Privot, 18, of Santa Ana, Route No. 4 and Virgil Carson, 140 South Dixie street, Orange, were riding on the ice truck at the time and have been summoned as witnesses before the coroner's jury.

A large number of Santa Ana pedestrians, on their way home at the time of the accident, witnessed it.

KILLS BROTHER IN QUARREL OVER WIFE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 24.—(UP)—Alex Burdock, 22, was shot and killed here last night by his crippled brother, Charles, 27, in a quarrel over treatment the younger man had shown the 17-year-old girl wife he married Monday.

According to Charles Burdock's statement to police, the younger man, apparently intoxicated, had upbraided his wife when she complained to her mother-in-law of her husband's treatment.

Charles took the young wife's part against her husband and in the quarrel that ensued, shot his brother three times when Alex threatened him with a butcher knife.

BILLY SUNDAY "CHOOSES" MAN WHO HEAVED THAT STALE EGG

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 24.—(UP)—A rotten egg missed Billy Sunday by three feet at the height of the widely known evangelist's denunciation of Governor Alfred E. Smith here last night. Advancing to the front of City Auditorium stage and pooling off his coat, Sunday shouted up into the balcony: "Come down here and I'll knock your damnable head off. Leave him alone up there, just let me have him." Several persons in the balcony pointed out the suspected egg hurler, but no arrests were made.

SENATOR NORRIS COMES OUT WITH DEFINITE ENDORSEMENT OF GOV. SMITH'S CANDIDACY

By PAUL FREDRIX United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Democratic strategy achieved today one of its most vital campaign objectives—definite endorsement of Governor Alfred E. Smith by Sen. George Norris of Nebraska.

The Nebraska Republican leader will tell the nation over the radio next Saturday night why he favors the Democratic presidential nominee, the progressive league for Smith announced.

This simple announcement, made by the league's executive secretary Frederick C. Howe through the Democratic national committee, is calculated by party chiefs to appeal to perhaps 5,000,000 voters, mostly in middle west states of political importance.

Many voters, classed under various designations as "progressives," supported the late Senator Robert M. La Follette for the presidency in 1924. If Norris, their unofficial spokesman, could swing them all to Smith, the latter's election Nov. 6 would be practically assured.

Smith would need, in addition to the agricultural states he could carry in such manner, only the usual "solid south" and New York state to put him over.

Whether Norris has strength to influence so many voters so powerfully is, of course, open to debate, but the Democrats including Smith, had such healthy respect for him that they bid all along for his backing.

Smith started this bid in his acceptance speech when he praised the elder La Follette and advocated "progressive" as opposed to "reactionary" government. He has since stressed in campaign speeches government ownership and control of water power, particularly with reference to Muscle Shoals, a thing for which Norris has fought the face of presidential vetoes.

It had been forecast that Norris would support Smith. Senator Blaine of Wisconsin, one of Norris' group, had done so. Senator Robert La Follette, Jr., with a fight for re-election on his hands, had failed to endorse Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee.

Hoover invading New York city Monday, attacked Smith's proposals as "state socialism." In doing so he afforded a strategic moment for Norris to come to Smith's support.

The announcement of the progressive league while Norris was in Washington state, campaigning for re-election of Senator DILL. At Tacoma yesterday he said that Hoover by his position on hydroelectric power had "repudiated" all the progressives who had backed him in the past.

He will make his Saturday night pro-Smith speech in Omaha, Nebraska, a state whose electoral votes might be sorely needed in the Smith column.

"A nationwide radio hookup over the Columbia chain has been arranged by the progressive league to bring his speech to the millions of voters who will be interested in it," the announcement said. "Senator Norris will speak from 8 to 9 o'clock, central time. He will devote his entire speech to a discussion of the two presidential candidates on national issues."

Prominent Republicans in Nebraska were said to be co-operating in arranging for the meeting in the auditorium in Omaha, where the senator will address "one of the largest meetings to be held in the west during the campaign."

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION WILL CARRY CASE TO COURT

Woman's Car Hits S. A. Motor Officer

B. A. Hershey, city motorcycle officer, wants a new law written which would prevent women motorists from window shopping as they drive down the street. And all because an innocent little woman driver probably saw a pretty dress in a window and was looking at it when her machine struck the officer's motor bike yesterday.

Hershey reported he was riding along at 10 miles an hour when he was bumped from the rear. He stopped the woman driver and lectured her, he said.

THANKSGIVING DAY IS NAMED BY PRESIDENT

Calvin Coolidge Proclaims November 29 As Day in Which to Give Thanks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—President Coolidge issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation today, setting aside Thursday, November 29, as a day of "general thanksgiving and prayer." The president called attention to the peace and tranquility and the prosperity now evident in America.

The text follows: "The season again approaches when it has been the custom for generations to set apart a day for thanksgiving for the blessings which the giver of all good and perfect gifts has bestowed upon us during the year. It is most becoming that we should do this for the goodness and mercy of God which have followed us through the year deserve our grateful recognition and acknowledgment."

"Through His divine favor peace and tranquility have reigned throughout the land; he has protected our country as a whole against pestilence and disaster and has directed us to the ways of national prosperity. Our fields have been abundantly productive; our industries have flourished; our commerce has increased; wages have been lucrative, and comfort and contentment have followed the undisturbed pursuit of honest toil as we have prospered in material things, so have we also grown and expanded in things spiritual through divine inspiration we have enlarged our charities and our missions; we have been imbued with high ideals which operated for the benefit of the world and promotion of the brotherhood of man to peace and good will."

"Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their daily work and in their homes, and in their accustomed places of worship, devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received, and seek His guidance that they may deserve a continuance of His favor."

"In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

"Done in the city of Washington, this 23rd day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and fifty-third."

SMITH STARTS OUT ON FINAL VOTE CAMPAIGN

Democratic Nominee Talks Tonight In Boston—To Tour Entire East

By PAUL R. MALLON United Press Staff Correspondent ALBANY, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith set out today on the great adventure of his arduous and picturesque political career. Alderman, sheriff, legislator and governor—positions he always has won in the final two weeks before election—the Democratic nominee boarded a special train at 10 a. m. to swing his fight for the presidency across the Atlantic seaboard from Massachusetts to Maryland. He has less than two weeks in which to do it.

A changed campaign demeanor could be noticed as he gathered up his papers for the final trip. The speech of his Republican opponent, Herbert Hoover, in New York Monday night, charging Smith with socialist tendencies on farm relief, prohibition and waterpower, had an unmistakable effect upon the "happy warrior," his friends said. His papers burned with replies he expects to make in Boston tonight answering the Hoover speech, according to those who share his confidence.

In his historic campaigns for the governorship Smith has never before to fight until the last two weeks. With shrewd political fervor he has always bided his time. He regards the latest Hoover speech as

THE CAMPAIGN LOG

Governor Alfred E. Smith prepared to answer Herbert Hoover's charges of "state socialism" as he opened the "Battle of the Atlantic seaboard" which included a tour of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Smith will speak in Boston tonight.

Herbert Hoover was back in Washington greatly encouraged by his New York City reception and strengthened in his belief of a New York state victory on election day.

Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska Republican, will endorse Smith in an address at Omaha, Saturday night according to statement issued today by the Progressive League for Alfred E. Smith.

Charles Evans Hughes, in the first of a series of five speeches on behalf of the Republican ticket, said that Hoover was more fitted for the presidency than Smith because of a wider and more intimate knowledge of national affairs.

Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice presidential candidate, will make his final stand for the Republican ticket at Boston, N. Y. tonight. At 10 o'clock last night, he delivered a speech and charged Smith with losing his vote on prohibition.

Directors Of County Fair Favor Operation On Sunday

$3000 DEFICIT SUSTAINED IN 1928. REPORT

Enthusiastic support was given suggestions at the annual meeting of the Orange County Fair association, last night, at the Orange county fair grounds, that the fair in future years be kept open on Sundays, and discussions by directors present indicated possibility of the board giving final approval to such a plan at a meeting to be held Thursday night of next week.

It was indicated, however, that should such action be taken, the amusement zone would be closed on Sunday, with entertainment provided only in the main feature tent. Discussions revealed the sentiment of those speaking favoring opening of the annual display on Tuesday or Wednesday preceding Labor day and closing on the evening of Labor day.

Deficit of $3000 In submitting his report on the 1928 fair, President H. A. Lake disclosed that the association this year, sustained a deficit of $3000. The loss was attributed to small attendance. It was the opinion of officials that attendance was affected by the heat prevailing at the time of the show.

Following remarks by W. B. Williams, J. P. Baumgartner and C. H. Chapman complimentary to the 1928 fair and expressions to the effect that the management should not be discouraged by reason of a deficit for the last fair, Director Frank Furutani discussed financial assistance received by other fairs from the boards of supervisors and quoted figures showing county aid given the fairs in Riverside, Pomona, Kern and other counties. He cited the Bakersfield and Pomona fairs as receiving $10,000 each from the boards of supervisors and compared this with the $3500 appropriated for the fair here by the Orange county board of supervisors.

State Operation Seen Possibility of the fair here being taken over by the state as a district fair before the time for the next annual display was indicated by Lake when he said that Gov. C. C. Young favored the placing of district fairs under control of the state. In such an event a board of directors for the county fair would be appointed by the governor. Larger appropriations by the state would be available to the fair should it become a district event, it was pointed out.

In the question of directors to fill vacancies resulting from expirations of terms, Mrs. J. V. Kellogg, Garden Grove; S. W. Stanley, Tustin; and George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, were elected to succeed themselves. Dr. W. H. Wickert, of Fullerton, was chosen to succeed Ralph McFadden, who resigned. Dr. Wickert will serve two years to complete McFadden's term. Other members of the board are Lake, Garden Grove; Ted Craig, Brea; F. L. Purinton, Santa Ana; John Ragan, Orange; and S. W. Miller, Placentia.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR YEAR INCREASE

Although more than two months remain in 1928, building permits for the year to date are in excess of those for the entire year of 1927, it was revealed by city building department figures today.

For the 12 months of 1927, the total was $1,448,217. For 1928 up to today the aggregate is $1,461,804.

According to building authorities the total for this year will exceed last year's mark by at least $600,000 and probably a half million.

Since January 1, 1928 permits have been issued by the city, 594 permits being granted for the 12 months of 1927. Since the first of October 17 permits have been issued here.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels, take Gasman's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach and bowels and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure.

wins the second prize, a 1927 Durant-Star Sedan with a total of $7,544.078 votes.

The first prize in Division Two, a 1925 Essex Sedan, was won by Mrs. Pearl Paddock, of Orange, with 9,231,350 votes. Mrs. R. M. Hodges, of Laguna, wins the second prize, a 1924 Whippet Coach, with a total of 5,316,360 votes.

The winners of the cash prizes, together with the winners of the automobiles, appear in another part of this issue of The Register.

Notable Success

Announced on August 1, last, the prize offer attracted instant attention, and from all sections of the Register territory men and women sent in their nominations, hopeful of sharing in the big prize distribution. During the weeks that followed, fortunes ebbed and flowed. Most of the original entrants carried on right through to the end—and a merry vote war it was! Rivalry was intense, but friendly, and the Register feels assured that the successful ones richly merited the prizes they won. Especially was the last week a notable one. Votes literally piled up and ended in a final rush that sent vote totals up to enormous figures. A locked and sealed ballot box was used the last week of the campaign, and in this box candidates deposited their subscriptions and money to cover the same.

R. D. Crenshaw & Company Audit Returns

To R. D. Crenshaw & Company, well-known Santa Ana firm of Certified Public Accountants, credit is due for completing so soon the task of checking the subscriptions and millions of votes cast. All subscription money turned in by each candidate and the votes were thoroughly checked and audited. The result is told on another page in this issue of The Register. The vote count was conducted admirably. By adding Machine being used to tally the votes, and to R. D. Crenshaw and Company the Register extends its praise and thanks.

Winners Congratulated To the winners, The Register offers its warmest congratulations. They are well entitled to success; they have shown that energy and pluck will surmount almost any obstacle. In distributing thousands of dollars worth of prizes among those who won their way to the top, The Register gives value received for their efforts on its behalf. Perhaps many got even more out of it—experience, the lesson of courage, insights to human nature—and these will be reckoned among the pleasant memories of the campaign.

It is unfortunate that all could not win big prizes. Still, candidates understood that when they entered. An automobile, of course, was the goal of most every contestant, and to those who did their best, but failed to win, The Register extends its genuine regrets. If the thanks of The Register, in some measure, can lessen the disappointment of the losers, let it be theirs. Cash commissions will be paid to all non-prize winners, according to the original announcement.

The Register appreciates the kindly feelings of every man and woman who participated, whether they have 10,000 votes or millions. We are proud of the men and women who have made this race such a remarkable success, and we hope the winners who are

With its investigation of the financial organization of the giant power trust temporarily halted, the commission today was busy cleaning up odds and ends of its investigation of the propaganda activities of the power interests in Washington and Kentucky. Two witnesses were to testify today, one for each section. A witness for Washington will tell of the dissemination of propaganda through the public schools in the Pacific coast state, the commission announced.

Assertions that utility pamphlets have been circulated in Washington state public schools with the active co-operation of Mrs. Joseph Corlies Preston, state superintendent of public instruction, were denied formally today by Mrs. Preston, a voluntary witness in the Federal Trade Commission's Utilities investigation.

Declaring she appeared because of "misrepresentation and accusation involving the use of certain industrial monographs by teachers and teacher-training schools," Mrs. Preston said the statements were untrue and made "with malicious intent."

Referring to an alleged attack she said was made upon her last April by the Seattle Star, Mrs. Preston said the newspaper was unfair in holding her responsible for a visit made by normal school students to private power plants.

STATUTORY CASE GIVEN TO JURORS

The case of M. T. Jones, 66, of Santa Ana, who is charged with lewd conduct, went to the jury today.

With Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett and Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins representing the people, and with D. G. Wetlin, Santa Ana, and H. P. DeLongy, Orange, representing Jones, the final arguments were concluded and the jury retired at 11:15 a. m.

The hearing began yesterday in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court. Jones is alleged to have insulted a girl. Selection of the jury yesterday was completed after a special venire of eight had been called when the regular panel was exhausted.

SHOOTING OF AGENT DECLARED ACCIDENT

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—(INS)—In spite of definite declarations yesterday by U. S. District Attorney George E. Johnson that he believed the shooting of Prohibition agent Thomas Ryan in a federal courtroom was part of a bootleggers' terror plot, special agents working on the case today were inclined to believe the shooting was accidental.

Another prohibition agent questioned at the time, was to be re-questioned today. His name has been withheld.

the first real statement of issues from the Republican candidate.

The movements for his departure on this new adventure seemed entirely dissociated from the early part of his campaign. In his two swings through the west he had a luxurious train of eleven cars. Now he has ordered only his private car. St. Nicholas, owned by his friend, William F. Kenny, the Brooklyn contractor, two ordinary Pullman cars for newspapersmen and a club coach for the mimeograph machine.

It was as if he had just removed his coat, after a display, and rolled up his sleeves to go to work. In the thirteen days before election night, he expects to greet millions of people along the Atlantic seaboard.

This last thrust is to be no family affair either. Only Mrs. Smith and perhaps one daughter, Mrs. Warner, will accompany him. There will be a continuous line of speeches and parades across the vital territory, beginning this morning with ten minute stops at Worcester and Springfield, Mass.

His train is due to arrive in Boston at 3:50 p. m. to start a parade which will carry him many miles over the territory where political leaders have reported special enthusiasm for his candidacy. Afterward he will rest at his hotel for his speech at the arena before 18,000 persons.

ARCADIA WOMAN TAKES POISON AND HURLS HERSELF TO DEATH IN WATERS OF ANAHEIM BAY

Standing on the electric railway bridge over Anaheim bay, east of Seal Beach, last night, an elderly woman, swallowed a death potion of arsenic and hurled herself off the bridge to her death in the waters below, according to a report made to Coroner Brown last night.

The woman is believed to have been Mrs. C. Hutslead, 65, of 211 East Azusa road, Arcadia. Seal Beach officers found the woman's pocketbook, containing an envelope with the name and address written on it, on the bridge.

Lacquer Fumes Explode Causing Damage Of $400

An apartment house, owned by A. J. Padgham, 222 East Ninth street, was damaged to the extent of approximately $400 late yesterday afternoon when gas fumes, arising from a newly-lacquered floor, were ignited by fire in a gas heater. The ensuing explosion was heard several blocks away.

Workmen were just leaving the building at the time. They rushed back into the house and extinguished the flames with a garden hose.

The room in which the floor was being lacquered had been closed throughout the day, it was reported. One of the workmen, on leaving, opened a door leading to another room where a heater was burning. The explosion followed shortly after.

HOOVER LAUDED BY HEAD OF W. C. T. U.

STOCKTON, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Herbert Hoover and Sen. Charles Curtis were termed the "standard bearers of the principles of the W. C. T. U." by Mrs. Addie Garwood Estes, president of the California state organization, in convention here today.

Mrs. Estes declared that the W. C. T. U. was non-partisan in politics but followed principle in voting. On this ground she urged the election of Hoover to the presidency as a "rebuttal to law-breakers and a message to the world that the United States is dry in principle."

Aviator Falls To Death; Instructor Narrowly Escapes

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 24.—(INS)—Donald Street, 30, a student aviator, was thrown from an airplane when it nose dived 1000 feet in the air today, and is believed to have been killed, and his instructor, Capt. R. H. Soundy, also thrown out, seized hold of the fuselage as he was falling, crawled back into his seat and landed the plane safely.

SATIN-SMOOTH SKIN—its lovely youthful freshness touches the heart! What a thrill grips the audience when the close-up reveals the exquisite perfection of the screen star's skin.

Knowing this, motion picture directors make flawless "studio skin" a first essential, for the screen star must constantly face the glaring close-up lights.

Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. There are in Hollywood 433 important actresses, including all stars. 417 of these use this fragrant, white soap. All the great film studios have made it the official soap in their dressing rooms.

MARY PREVOST is considered one of the most alluring stars in Hollywood. "To find a soap as delightful as the clean soap you get in Paris is a job," Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin such "velvety softness," says the Pathé star.

NINE out of ten screen stars use it for complexion and skin.

CRUELTY COUNT BASIS OF SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Charging her husband with mental and physical cruelty, Mrs. Selma E. Bonner, Orange, today launched a divorce suit against Hattie R. Bonner, alleging that after she had left a dance hall at his request, he tore her dress entirely off her body and hit her in the face with his open hand.

She had gone to the dance with his consent, she declared, but stated that he entered the hall and ordered her to leave.

On October 3, after she had come home to lunch, she asked Bonner to take her back to work in the car, according to the complaint, which went on to say that after they got into the automobile, he drove around for hours, unjustly accusing her of flirting with other men. On the following day, she declared, he would not allow her to go to work and continued his accusations.

At 5 a.m., the next day, he got her out of bed and ordered her to the kitchen, she said, recalling that when she remonstrated he pushed her backward toward the kitchen and his her on the nose with his clenched fist. Her complaint said that she saw no occasion for getting up at such an early hour.

She asked that community property, including a gravel truck, with which she alleged Bonner earned $20 to $30 a day, be divided equally by the court. The couple married in July, 1926, and separated October 17, the complaint stated. John Martell, Santa Ana attorney, represents Mrs. Bonner.

WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS, HE CLAIMS

Things come all at once to Joseph Holub, Sunset Beach man.

On October 19 he was arrested on a charge of possession of liquor after officers were alleged to have found several bottles of beer in his home. Yesterday he made bail and his case was continued until November 8, at his request.

Last night he was arrested again, on a new possession of liquor charge, and his bail set at $1000.

Officers McKague and Elliott were driving along the state highway, near Sunset Beach, last night, when they reported they saw Holub leading a case of liquor into his machine.

POLICEMAN KILLED IN STREET BATTLE

COLOGNE, Germany, Oct. 24.—One policeman was killed, six others were seriously wounded and many pedestrians were hurt during an all night search by 400 police for two brothers named Heider, who were accused of shooting up a cafe, injuring some of the patrons. Police dogs, aiding the police, raced through the streets, while policemen clambered over roofs and through skylights.

The hunted men commandeered a street car, forcing the driver and passengers to leave. They raced through the city, leaving the car in a park. Policemen surrounded them and a battle ensued.

LAUNCH DRIVE FOR HIGH SCHOOL PAPER

A campaign for more student subscribers will be conducted during the coming week by the Generator, high school weekly publication. Copies for the remainder of the school year will cost 50 cents.

The Generator is presented free of charge to all holders of student books. However, many students who have not purchased books are interested in obtaining copies of the weekly paper.

editions of the paper have been published since the opening of the school term. Copies of the first issues were presented to the students, regardless of whether they owned student body tickets or not. Next Friday's issue, however, will be the last given to those not holding tickets unless they have subscribed.

Alleged Damage To Trees By Gas Basis Of Action

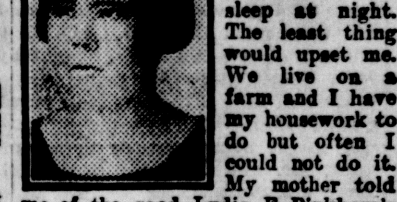

An alleged subterranean gas devastation was brought to light today with the launching of a damage suit against the Southern Counties Gas company by R. H. Swesey, who claimed that gas escaping from the company's lines at the intersection of Lincoln boulevard and Buena Park highway had killed five trees on his property.

Swesey accused the company of negligence in construction of the pipe line. The gas has seeped from the line through the ground and has killed four of his cypress trees and one walnut tree, he asserted. He asked $500 damages in a complaint filed through A. P. Nelson, Santa Ana attorney.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be safely and quickly corrected by the use of a good alkaline. Blurred Magnesia—powder or tablets—is ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you or money back. Reliable druggists everywhere sell Blurred Magnesia with this guarantee.—Adv.

Pioneers in Unselfish Banking

No bank can achieve the highest degree of real success unless it functions primarily to help others succeed. To be helpful, constructive and sincerely human in all of its activities has been the dominating thought in this institution since its inception. The policies, purposes and methods of Bank of Italy reflect the unselfish character of its founder and his associates. The institution has always been operated primarily for the benefit of its patrons and shareholders. Unselfish banking practices—a demonstrated success in 165 cities of California—have helped to make it the great bank it is today

RETIREMENT OF U. P. VETERAN IS ANNOUNCED

E. W. Platt, for the last 10 years general manager of the Oregon Short Line, intermountain unit of the Union Pacific system, with headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah, and for 43 years connected with the Union Pacific organization, has upon his own application and because of ill health been granted retirement, effective October 25.

Announcement of the action was made yesterday by Carl R. Gray, president, who also designated H. J. Plumb, superintendent of the southern district of the Union Pacific and stationed in Kansas City, to succeed Platt. W. H. Guild, assistant to the vice president in charge of operation in Omaha will succeed Plumb in Kansas City.

All three of the rail officials are well known in California and all started with the Union Pacific at the bottom of the ladder. Platt as a clerk, in 1885; Plumb as a blueprint boy, in 1889, and Guild as an office boy, in 1899. Following his retirement, Platt will move

$500 Bail Set In Disturbance Case

HARDING'S ESTATE VALUED AT $40,000

Foster W. Harding, who died in Santa Ana on October 24, left an estate valued at approximately $40,000, according to a petition for admitting his will to probate, filed today.

The property consists chiefly of apartment house and business property, having an income of $8000 a year, according to the petition. Frances E. Harding, widow, was named in the will as executrix. Lulu E. Meacham and Minnie E. Harding, of Santa Ana, daughters of the deceased, were named with Mrs. Harding as heirs.

to Los Angeles. For a number of years his family has had a home in Laurel canyon.

E. L. J. COLLINS WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of the late E. L. J. Collins, of Orange, who died October 16, was filed for probate today and showed that he left property valued at over $10,000.

Heirs to the estate were named in the petition as E. L. Collins, Orange, a brother; Arthur B. Collins, Laguna Beach, a son; Frank Collins, Orange, a son, and Rachel C. Montanna, Orange, a daughter.

The will directed that the 20-acre ranch, near Orange, belonging to the deceased, be sold. Beneficiaries named in the will were Edward Winter Field, Otis O. Jones, Kenneth P. Collins and Arthur Collins. The document related that part of the property be kept in trust for Gary M. Field. The Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings bank filed the will for probate.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 24.—Many Westminster people attended the funeral of Frankie McGuire, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuire, of Westminster, who met his death Thursday of last week in an automobile accident at Talbert.

Four boys of high school age, Wendell Kinawyer, of Westminster; Orel Hare Jr., of Westminster, and Nave Deandetta, and Johnny Parula were the pallbearers.

For the first Sunday of the loyalty crusade drive, which extends until December 3, there was a 100 per cent gain over the previous Sunday attendance, a 67 per cent gain in church membership attendance and a two per cent gain in the entire Sunday school. There were 305 present at Sunday school last Sunday, 166 the preceding Sunday.

A men's Bible class was organized Sunday with 13 present and the teacher is the Rev. Mr. Weld, while the women's class, taught by Mrs. Foster, has 16 members.

Melvin and Francis had were guests from Saturday until Tuesday in the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. F. Hall. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Hall, of Chowchilla. The family was spending the week with relatives in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. F. Hall and family were in Santa Ana Sunday afternoon at a party given by a sister of Mr. Hall, Miss Flora Hall, for their mother, Mrs. E. E. Hall, who was celebrating her birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Grandy and daughter, of Whittier, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Grandy and attended church services at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

A dinner was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Merton Penhall at their home at Cypress and relatives from Westminster were among the guests. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day and daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. George Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. George Penhall, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Campbell and son and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Penhall and daughter, Miss George Penhall, who was spending the week end at home from Los Angeles, were Long Beach visitors Sunday.

The Busy Bee club met Monday afternoon in the L. O. G. F. hall but as a quarrel was not present the business session was postponed until next meeting, the fourth Monday in the month. The women attending played "40" during the afternoon.

The Rev. R. A. Weld attended a ministers' meeting held Monday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clough and baby who vacationed at Lake Arrowhead, have returned home.

Mrs. Fred Meyer spent a day in Long Beach with a sick friend.

There was a special vocal number rendered at the morning church service. The Sunday evening was designated as men's night. Women's night will be observed next Sunday evening while at the morning service a section for the meeting of families will be arranged for the family service.

Each man, woman and child is invited to attend all of the Sunday and church services next Sunday and help the school to attain the full quota by December 3.

Mrs. L. E. Barry, Mrs. Joe Edwards, Mrs. Joe Walton, Mrs. Melvin, Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Ruth Penhall, Mrs. R. E. Larter, Mrs. Virginia Patterson, Mrs. W. B. McCoy, Mrs. Thomas Turpin and Mrs. M. J. P. Hall, and members of the loyalty crusade drive in the community.

The third grade of the Westminster school presented the program at the school assembly held by the lower grades of the school in the school auditorium with Mrs. Campbell, third grade teacher, in charge of the entertainment.

The next assembly to be given by the upper grades is to be presented by the seventh grade under Mr. Pitts, and will be a Thanksgiving program.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Spencer entertained as their guests over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stebbins and their son and daughter, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Loomis are entertaining as house guests their daughter, Mrs. Clara Seiga, and small son and daughter, of Buick, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Loomis spent Sunday in Long Beach as guests of Mrs. Loomis' sister, Mrs. Clara Miller, and in the evening motored to Los Angeles to meet their relatives who came in over the Santa Fe at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Preston, friends from Long Beach, met the party at the Loomis home upon their arrival from Los Angeles. Mrs. Seiga plans on remaining five weeks.

Mrs. Sue Pratt visited Mr. Pratt Sunday, at the Alta Loma sanitarium, where he is a patient, making the trip in company with friends from Norwalk.

Mrs. Addie L. Blakey and Miss Leona Blakey returned Monday from San Bernardino county, where they visited in Colton, San Bernardino and Redlands with relatives and friends since last Friday. They made the trip with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wallace, who were here on a trip last week and who also motored home with them, going from here to Whittier to see friends.

Mrs. Verna Goets and two daughters, of Santa Ana, were week end guests in the home of the parents of Mr. Goets, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Comad.

Mrs. W. J. Comad, son, Simon Comad, and daughter, Miss Wilma Comad, motored to Los Angeles Sunday, taking to her home Mrs. Comad's daughter, Mrs. John Scott, who has been visiting in the Comad home.

The Business Man

Time is money in business and I make sure my car is always ready for service by using Champion Spark Plugs.

Champion is the better spark plug because it has an exclusive platinum insulator specially ground to withstand the much higher temperatures of the modern high-compression engine. Also a new patented cold cup and patented design combine to produce a spark which is stronger and more reliable under all driving conditions.

EXCHANGE CLUB DEFEATS LIONS IN BALL GAME

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 24.—The Newport Beach Exchange club today defeated the Lions club in a baseball game. The game was played at Costa Mesa and was the second game between the two clubs. The first game also was won by the Exchange club, although by a close margin. Both contests were five inning affairs.

The game yesterday started promptly at 12 o'clock and the Exchange club team got off to a running start by scoring six runs in the first half of the inning. The Lions were unable to score in their half of the inning. The Exchange members brought across three more runs in the second inning, five in the third, eight in the fourth and four in the fifth inning.

The Lions scored two in the second inning, one in the third, two in the fourth and four in the fifth. The batting of C. C. Macleod, secretary of the Exchange club, was one of the features of the game. Macleod pounded out five hits out of five trips to the plate, one of them being a home run. C. F. Crawford also played out a home run for the Exchange club and Earl Patterson followed a circuit clout for the Lions.

Following the game the members of both clubs adjourned to the Friday Afternoon club house, where a luncheon was served by members of the club. Charles Dunn, president of the Costa Mesa Lions, presided at the session along with Eugene Fenton, president of the Exchange club. A past president's pin was presented to E. B. Whitson at the meeting. Whitson was the first president of the Exchange club.

The lineup for the Exchange club and the batting order was as follows: George Wilson, second base; E. B. Weber, right field; C. C. Macleod, center field; Roland Macdonald, catcher; L. W. Briggs, shortstop; E. B. Whitson, third base; E. A. Moore, first base; C. F. Crawford, left field; Eugene Fenton, pitcher; substitutions: Charles Way for Macdonald, and Macdonald for Fenton. The Lions club lineup and batting order was: Roy Davis and W. W. Macdonald, left field; E. A. Spaulding, second base; Charles Dunn and A. E. Block, third base; Ross Hosch, shortstop; Charles Fuller, pitcher; Earl Patterson, catcher; George Gardner, right field; Ray Wallace, center field; Fred Seifert, center field.

CLOTHES IDEAS FROM ABROAD

Last fall when I was in France, I admired the dress which the daughter of our hostess was wearing, and she confessed it was three years old, originally rose-bud, now dyed a rich, deep shade of red! The French are eternally surprising you with thrifty little tricks like that—tricks which it pays to imitate.

Most of us have dresses which, if allowed to remain their original color, are discarded or seldom worn. Re-dyed, they become favorites again.

Just get a package or two of Mrs. J. J. Diamond Dyes, and try your hand at tinting or dyeing. You'll be amazed to see how easy it is to use Diamond Dyes. They never disappoint you. The "know how" is in the dye. They are ready to use when you need them. They never give you a faded look, like make-up. They never fade. The more you use them, the more you can get from them.

The new book, "The Art of Dyeing," is a beautiful book, full of ideas and instructions. It is a must for every woman who loves to dye. It is available at all bookstores and department stores.

ORANGE GIVES CONTRACTS FOR SANTIAGO WORK

ORANGE, Oct. 24.—Contracts were let for furnishing cement for the protective work to be done by the city on Santiago creek, at a meeting of the city council yesterday. The cement contract was awarded to the Barr Lumber company, Santa Ana, a bid of $2.04 a barrel delivered on the ground. The Monolith and the Southwestern companies of Los Angeles submitted bids of $2.40 f. o. b. on cars. The Barr bid insures delivery at the creek at times and in quantities needed.

Contracts were awarded for the excavating and cement pouring to William Durker and Clyde Pentecost. Durker will do the digging at $1.10 per foot depth and Pentecost will do the mixing and pouring for the pillars at $1.25.

A check was received from the Union rock company, for $1750 as the company's share of the expense of the protective work. W. B. Dennis is to furnish the sum of $555.35 and the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company $231.65. The city of Orange is to assume a sum equal to that furnished by the Union Rock company.

Ordinance 294 came up for a second reading. This ordinance grants the Pacific Electric railway a franchise for its tracks for a period of 50 years along streets specified in the ordinance. Councilman Woods moved for the adoption of the ordinance and the motion carried.

W. S. Chandler of the county health department appeared before the board asking for the renewal of a contract between Orange county and the city of Orange whereby the city authorizes the county to be the city's health department. A new clause was injected in the contract, which is for the term of 10 years. The clause allows the termination of the contract at any time if either county or city violates any of the provisions stated in the contract. A notice of 60 days must be given in this event. The contract was left for the mayor's signature. The county charges $1 a year for the service to the city.

The W. S. Chandler company made a report on a sewer connection for one house on South Park street.

An informal discussion of the report of the occupational tax committee occupied the greater share of the session.

NEWPORT BOY SCOUTS GIVEN HONOR BADGES

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 24.—The Newport Beach Boy Scout troop, is keeping its place well among the leading troops in the county. It is reported by A. J. Twist, Scoutmaster, following a recent meeting of the organization. Several Scouts were honored at a local court of honor. E. B. Whitson, Scout executive for this district was in charge of the court. Eagle Scouts of the troop were placed in charge of the tests for the second class Scouts.

Jack Dodge and Judson Sutherland were made second class Scouts. Merit badges were awarded Russell Shafer, life saving; Albert Spencer, painting, conservation, animal industry, architecture and reptile study; Wilford MacDonald, farm home planning and plumbing; Jack Summers, cement work, metal craft, masonry and automobile and Donald Stafford, pioneering.

Following the court of honor the Scouts held a short practice period of marching in preparation for the Armistice day parade to be held at Orange this year.

According to Twist several local Scouts are now qualified to receive honors at the next Scout rally. Russell Shafer and Jack Summers have passed all tests for Eagle Scouts. Albert Spencer and Wilford MacDonald have qualified for their gold palms. Carl Curtis and Harry Robinson for their bronze palms and LeRoy Stafford and James Sussdorf for star badges.

To the Register Contestants, Readers and Subscribers, New and Old

Dear Friends:

The publisher desires to thank you contestants for the wonderful work which you carried on during the past 10 weeks on behalf of this paper. We appreciate your efforts. We have heard of the many fine commendations which were made, and are happy that the paper each day is a vindication of these statements. We are proud of the paper's past, of the years of toil and of idealism which were put into this institution in the decades before the present management took charge of it. We are glad that it is a real Orange County institution and that such work could be done on its behalf for 10 weeks, by such people as you are, with full confidence that the publication would sustain the prophecy and promise which the past years have given it.

To the subscribers, both old and new, we cannot express the deep appreciation we have of your support and the confidence that lies back of it. It places upon us a sense of responsibility and obligation to make good to you in the finest possible way. There are more of you now than there ever have been before in the history of this publication. Every additional home into which this paper enters adds to the sacredness of the service which its publishers should feel, and which every member of the staff does feel.

We have conceived that we are under a contract with you to furnish you as complete world, international, national, state, county and local news as it is possible to pack into the pages of the Register each day. We have spared neither effort nor expense to perfectly perform this job. While there are times when we have not achieved our highest hope, it is our constant endeavor to daily come nearer to it.

The increased circulation of the Register, the steady and constant support of the people of Santa Ana and Orange County insure the publisher the power to sustain and enlarge the high degree of excellence to which the Register has attained. A paper is able to do in proportion as support is furnished. It costs about $1,000 a day to furnish Santa Ana and Orange County the character of publication which is being furnished by the Register. Were the support not assured by the sustaining force of the people of the city and county, such a paper would not be possible; and the subscriber—and in the end the city and county—would suffer thereby.

The practical unanimous voice of the people of Santa Ana on behalf of the Register as evidenced by its subscription list, together with the volume of subscribers throughout the entire county is the complete and absolute assurance that the merits of the paper will be sustained and advanced. While this means much to you, we are doubly grateful for your expression.

And now, on behalf of the merchants, the professional and business men who use the columns of the paper to tell you of the advantages which their services and merchandise are to you, we desire also to express a word of appreciation. You know, and they know, that increased expense or cost of doing business must either be taken from profit, or added to the cost of the merchandise or service rendered. Every decrease in cost on the other hand means the ultimate saving in the pockets of the consumer. They are fully aware, as you are, that rent, insurance, clerk hire, advertising, freight, and all the rest must be added to the cost of the merchandise, and paid for by the purchaser before anything is left for the merchant to use himself.

So the merchant is directly and vitally interested in your loyal adherence to the paper which serves them, for thus they are assured that they do not have to add to their expense in reaching the people of Santa Ana and the thousands of homes throughout the county. They give you every advantage of wise and studied buying. We doubt if there can be found a group of merchants anywhere in America who are more intelligent and discriminating in the use of the expense money for their firms, than are to be found in Santa Ana. They realize they must do this to the end of serving a keenly intelligent buying public. They see that they are able, by your own action, to save money in an advertising way. They also realize that you are the people who are finally benefited by it.

So we are sure that if the great body of able, farseeing, successful merchants of Santa Ana could speak to you directly, they would express the thought that you have not only done the fine and profitable thing directly as readers of the paper to insure the continuation of the paper, at the same high order of excellence; but that you have insured the savings that come through the reduced cost to the merchant in an advertising way, which otherwise might be spent necessarily through other mediums to reach you, and the cost added finally to your bills.

The present owners purchased this paper a little over a year ago. The character, size and importance of the paper visualized to those who had never seen the city, a fine and growing metropolis. We felt then the responsibility for sustaining the value to the city of a great paper and we have had nearly 100 per cent support from the merchants who serve you and from you, the great mass of readers in Orange County. Now, at the forepart of the second year, at the close of this special effort and this great response, we feel that we should write this message and should express to you our determination to show by our efforts that we are worthy of this confidence and trust.

NINE YANKEES ON TRADING BLOCK, CLAIM

BOOKS SLIDES

DID YOU KNOW THAT Virginia played all through the Princeton game with only two substitutes. That's all they had. The Garden is a half-million behind the profits of 1934. Rickard's firm made $400,000 in June, July, August, September last year. And dropped $375,000 during the same period this year. New York U. said "Lefty" Manfredi, the east's greatest pitcher, couldn't play college any more. He was too friendly with the Yanks. And the Red Sox are said to have the young man who started for Boston college in the Navy game. Jack Sharkey aired Jimmy Johnston as one of his four managers. And will profit 25 grand per year thereby. The Yale Daily News wants the university to open up and cover the press box. So the writers won't get wet any more. Manager Johnston may pitch once in a while for the Senators.

COCHRANE WORKED FOR IT "Mickey" Cochrane may not have secured the American league's most valuable player prize in preference to Heinie Manush, but he certainly worked for it.

By his individual efforts Manush had much to do with the transference of the St. Louis Browns to a first division club but Cochrane had his own personal responsibilities with an important team in a pennant race.

Cochrane worked behind the bat

In nearly every game of the season and he had more duties than to catch what the pitcher threw at him. He had to strain himself in every minute of every game to put some fight in the team.

The ball players say that Cochrane was one of only two "money players" on the team and that is their way of saying something mighty important about the players on a team that were just nosed out of a championship.

FOXK COULDN'T GET TOUGH Mechanically Jimmy Foxk may have been more valuable to the Athletics than Cochrane was. Some baseball men think he was because he caught, played third base and first base and hit nobly. In the positions he was forced to fill he was more necessary than Cochrane because there was a very good catcher sitting on the bench.

But Jimmy is just a boy and he couldn't have the influence on his teammates that the older Cochrane had and he couldn't call the older men on the team as Cochrane called them plenty.

EVANS IS GLAD S. A. MAY LOSE JOHNSON BACK HALFBACK HURT WITH SENATORS IN SCRIMMAGE

BY BILLY EVANS The American league warmly welcomes Walter Johnson back to the fold. Never did a more popular performer grace the major leagues.

Walter Johnson passed from the American league as a pitcher. He had finished 30 years of meritorious service. Feeling that his pitching days were over, he wanted a chance as manager. There was no place for him at Washington. Granted his unconditional release, he signed to manage the Newark team of the International league.

During the spring training trip to his club, Johnson was taken dangerously ill and for a time his life was despaired of. Not until many weeks after the season had opened was he able to be on the job. His club got away to a bad start and, in his first year as manager, Johnson met with only fair success. However, he undoubtedly gained much knowledge in his year in the minors that will help him as a big league pitcher.

Baseball Fame is Fickle Truly, the ways of a big league manager are most uncertain, the position a most precarious one.

Back in 1925 Stanley Harris was the toast of Washington. At the boy manager of the Nationals, he had, in his first year as a leader, won a pennant and a world championship for Washington. He followed this with another pennant. Then came reverse and his popularity began to wane. Baseball fans, you know, are fickle; a manager must deliver.

Very often a year makes a lot of difference in one's career. Last spring I made a trip to Washington in an effort to secure "Bucky" Harris as manager and second baseman of the Cleveland Indians. Cleveland was prepared to pay as much as $100,000 for this player, feeling that such a deal would not only give the club a manager but a crack second baseman as well. The offer was turned down by Clark Griffith, who wisely re-

Just when everybody was beginning to rejoice about the recovery of all the Santa Ana high school cripples and Coach "Tex" Oliver was led to believe that he would have every member of his big squad in first class condition for the league struggle at South Pasadena next Saturday—something had to happen, of course.

Lloyd Nuzum, known as the "Bakersfield Beauty," was led off the field during practice yesterday with an injured knee sustained when he was tackled by two teammates on an opposing eleven for scrimmage purposes.

The extent of the fleet halfback's hurt was not known today and may not be until Nuzum, who was on the squad at Bakersfield high school last season, tries to put some weight on it in practice this afternoon.

Nuzum had been showing tremendous improvement this week, particularly in blocking, and was named as a probable starter in the set-to with the Tigers. He did not get in the Whittier ruckus at all, Oliver making only two backfield substitutions during the entire encounter.

Like the junior college, the high school football players went through a long workout which was climaxed by 15 minutes on the charging sled over on the baseball field. Oliver was greatly displeased at the manner in which his lineemen acted in the last quarter of the Whittier affray and he believes their "let-down" was largely due to lack of condition. He doesn't want such a state of affairs to occur again and his players will "get the works" from now on until they prove they can go 48 minutes without breaking down.

Dons In Longest Practice Of Season

COOK WORKING MEN HARD FOR GAME SATURDAY

Prima facie evidence that Coach Andrew Jackson (Bill) Cook means to send the finest Santa Ana junior college football team in history against the Long Beach Vikings was displayed before a small but appreciative jury yesterday when Cook herded his Dons through a practice session that stopped only when nobody could longer see the ball.

When Coach Bill finally halted proceedings it was not dusk—it was dark. The workout undoubtedly was the longest and most vigorous in local football history for the first and second string varieties scrimmaged robustly throughout the greater part of two hours.

Especially attention was paid to several new plays with which Cook hopes to further worry the Long Beach collegians who figure to be the toughest competition the Dons will have the rest of their conference schedule.

Cook also gave his backs some advice about breaking up Long Beach's passing game. After what happened in the Pasadena game the boys are determined to prevent another like occurrence and if they live up to their statements, Long Beach is liable to throw their passes in vain.

"Reg" Rust, star halfback, was galloping around the ends with all his old time vigor and seems to be physically all right. Bob McLean, the injured tackle, played defense for a while. Barring further injuries to his arm and shoulder, he should get into the game. Cook used "Red" Edwards at running guard which Jack Casey was forced to vacate. This is the first opportunity since Casey's injury that "Red" has had in that berth and he looked pretty good. He had been playing first substitute for Casey the early part of the season.

For the first time this season, Halfback Dick Lusk got into scrimmage. He has been forced to remain out of active participation due to a broken jaw, but he got into action for a few minutes. It is problematical whether Lusk will get into the game Saturday. Cook would rather wait another week or so and give the boy's jaw time to get "hard." Lusk starred at Anaheim last season.

Ineligibilities so far this year have not hampered the squad as was the case last year and it is hoped that the team will not suffer too much from this "disease." The strictest rule enforced at the local college has to do with the standard of scholarship maintained by the participant in major league contests and any athlete, regardless of his value to the team, must maintain this standard or be forced to warm the bench.

U. S. C. NOTABLES TO ATTEND LOCAL MEET Members of the Santa Ana Trojan club will get down to intensive training in doping out the coming Standard U. S. C. football game when they gather at Ketter's cafe next Monday noon to entertain Coach Howard Jones, Trojan mentor; Captain Jess Hibbs, Don Williams and "Jeff" Cravath, of the U. S. C. varsity.

The foursome has been invited to attend the session and it is expected today that most of them will accept. The big game played by U. S. C. and California last Saturday is expected to be reviewed, while sideglances on the Stanford-Idaho contest in its relation to U. S. C. tactics may be revealed.

Callahan Offers To Fight Anyone

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight champion, pulled the unexpected here today when he appeared at the offices of the Illinois boxing commission to offer his services for a title bout with anyone that the local body sees fit to oppose him.

Champions very seldom take this course but Mushy feels satisfied that he is ready after his hard 10-round draw with Bobby Tracy of Buffalo here last night. This was Callahan's second bout within the last 10 days after his six months' layoff.

INJURIES DIDN'T CURE Although he had his neck broken twice, his collarbone twice his nose thrice and his hand crushed as a player, O. F. Freeman of Memphis, Tenn., hasn't enough of football. He's coaching now.

SOME INDIANS STILL ON THE WARPATH - BY LAUFER

FRAZIER BOXES GEORGE CLAIRE HERE TONIGHT

"Regular and preferred" members of the Orange County Amateur Athletic club, with or without "cards" but all with the same curiosity, are going to Henry Foust's Delphi arena tonight to determine whether Wally Frazier, Hawthorne's most prominent athlete, can beat George Claire, of Vernon, for Frazier's fourth successive title triumph here.

Frazier's previous opponents, starting with "Red" Blankmeyer, all have been victims, the Hawthorne sharpshooter packing too many guns for them. Claire has been described as a much more worthy rival for the big fellow.

The Frazier-Claire encounter will be the "last main event" which indicates that the management believes Jack Gilbert and Richie Thomas, principals in the "first main event" are of virtual equal ability. Gilbert and Thomas have been seen here before but not for many months. At one time Gilbert was one of the best drawing cards here.

The preliminaries will prepare the fans for the top spots. Frank O'Campo, a Santa Ana youngster who has adopted the name of another well known local boxing fancier, will make his pugilistic presence known against Dixie Bush. The rest of the program, which lists among others Eddie Lloyd and Clarence Hicks, both Santa Annas, is shown in the box above.

El Ouafi To Run Against Veteran

WEST NEW YORK, N. J., Oct. 24.—El Ouafi, an Algerian runner who won the Olympic marathon this year and defeated Jole Ray and others last Sunday in a professional marathon, will compete against Johnny Hayes in a special exhibition race here today. Hayes won the first Olympic marathon for the United States.

FIGHT 'GAME IN DOLDRUMS; BIG PROMOTERS LOSE MONEY

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The fight game is as idle as a painted Joe Beckett on a painted canvas. The good ship "Fisticuffs," which for seven seasons sailed the seven seas of financial success with golden sails a-billow and the hatches fairly popping with prosperity, is in the doldrums. Captain Tex has gone below and the crew doesn't know what to do about it.

From 1921, when Richard introduced his first "Battle of the Century" to a $1,450,000 crowd, until 1928, when the three leading boxing promoters of the United States all lost heavy money, the fight game reached its peak and then fell flatter than a British heavy-weight.

Right at the moment, there is not one champion prepared to defend his title, only one promoter able to pay him to do so, and probably very few fight fans who care very much one way or another.

No Heavyweight Champ There is no heavyweight champion, and if all the contenders were put together, "retaining the best features of each," the result wouldn't be so much.

The light heavyweight champion won't fight in his class and the middleweight champion can't. Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, has agreed to meet Young Jack Thompson in Madison Square Garden November 16, but the titleholder and his hand-carved manager, Maxie Waxman, still are fussing about the ticket prices.

The lightweight champion won't fight lightweights and the featherweight champion won't fight Americans and there is less public interest in the still lighter divisions than in the middle name of Abdel R. El Ouafi.

Indoor Season Opens Soon "There once was a superstition in fistic circles that the public 'always falls for heavyweights,' especially if the heavyweights are of the sort to do a little falling themselves. At the moment, not even the prospect of modified mastodon murder evokes enthusiasm with a cash background.

The first of the indoor shows of the season on November 1, featuring Freddie Uscudun, the Hungarian Bague, and Otto Von Porat, and when one hears that the Marmagosa is being billed as "the deadliest puncher in the heavyweight division" one realizes that the poor old division has certainly lost its wallop.

Roberto Roberti, who works for Humbert J. Fugazy, the Ebbets field optimist, in the summer time, has been offered a sum of real money to meet Knute Hansen under Richard's auspices, but has just about decided to go home and be decorated by Mussolini before losing any more ribs or teeth in his newly chosen profession.

Jack Sharkey is conveniently incapacitated. Leo Lomski, an expert father, has retired until December. George Godfrey is taboo with Tex and Tom Heaney still has pocket money.

The fight game, admitting there is any necessity for it at all, needs a tonic. It would not be surprising if Jack Dempsey, who, a few weeks ago, admitted that his retirement was not necessarily permanent, would permit himself to be persuaded to return to the ring next year. When Jack was fighting, or even talking about it, or even keeping silent about it, the whole game was prosperous. Its decline dates with his departure, not with Tunney's.

INDIANS SCORE 7-0 WIN OVER TUSTIN 'BEES'

By JACK WRIGHT Football hopes at Frances E. Willard junior high school were much brighter today following the 7 to 0 victory of the Indians over Tustin high school's Class B eleven in a practice game on Willard's field yesterday. The Tustin squad won a previous contest with the North Main streeters, 6 to 0.

Frances Willard threatened to score on numerous occasions during the first two quarters but Tustin displayed a strong defense until early in the third quarter when Captain Blower got away for 35 yards and a touchdown. Clark added the extra point. Frances Willard's defense was altogether too powerful for the Farmers who

Bob Menzel

As I understand it, the only Yankee regulars who will hold over for the 1936 season are Ruth, Gehrig, Combs, Hoyt, Fennock, Phipps, Zachary, Lasserri, Koenig, Durocher and Bengough.

Moore, of course, stays on the payroll because, if he is due for a come back, the Yankees want him, and if he isn't, nobody does. Koenig is the present selection for third base with Durocher at shortstop and Larry and Reese, the $150,000 Pacific Coast pair, distinct possibilities for two of the four infield positions. Julian Wertz, out to grass several times, is believed to be ready, too. Therefore, Huggins thinks himself justified in cutting loose from Dugan, Gassella, and Robertson.

BOXING LEADER DENIES ROLLER TACTICS USED

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Paul Pehn, recently elected president of the National Boxing Association, today denied charges of Canadian and American members of the organization that steam-rolling tactics were used by the Illinois delegation in winning the annual elections of the boxing association.

Pehn was not trying to learn at the Canadian Boxing federation had withdrawn from the organization. However, he was greatly concerned over the threatened withdrawal of Connecticut, New Jersey and possibly Michigan.

"As far as steam-rolling tactics at the convention are concerned, I think the election was held very fairly. The six offices were distributed evenly as far as territory was concerned," Pehn declared.

"Illinois took the presidency, the secretaryship, and treasurer's position went to Maryland, and Ohio; and Kansas, Rhode Island and North Carolina received the vice presidencies."

"I believe that only the Eastern states, which have been in control of the governing positions and who at the first time have been defeated in the annual elections are now dissatisfied and wish to form a new organization."

"As far as the National Boxing Association is concerned there is no tricking," he said. "We as an organization are interested in the welfare of the sport only."

Pehn pointed out that it was his belief that the majority of states which are now members of the association are loyal and will remain in the organization and will co-operate in carrying out the plans to promote the sport as outlined at the convention.

Stanley M. Isaacs, newly elected vice president of the N. B. A. from Ohio in Chicago today, issued a statement in which he censured the threatened action of the Eastern states. Pehn and Isaacs are going forward with the organization program despite the pending disruption.

BILLY EVANS HAPPY AS JOHNSON BACK

marked that the sum of money offered wouldn't purchase him a manager and second baseman in return. He decided to string along with Harris, despite the ill-feeling of the Washington fans against club and pilot.

I have heard it said that one reason Harris was deposed as manager was that his club had gotten away from him as to discipline. I am rather surprised, since it was my thought that Harris ran his club with an iron hand. Maybe it was different last year.

All of which gives rise to the fact that managing a major league club is a difficult task. A manager must deliver consistently to hold his job. When he fails to deliver various excuses are offered. Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox failed, according to report, because he was too easy with his players; the reason for Moriarty's fall at Detroit is said to be the fact that he was too hard with his athletes, handled them too roughly. Take your choice but this merely proves that either method has its drawback.

Baseball fans will be greatly interested in Walter Johnson as manager. A great success as pitcher, one of the most popular players in the history of the game, his career as a manager ahead of him.

FOOTBALL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—A revised Southern California backfield will face Occidental college here Saturday, Coach Howard Jones said today.

Marshall Duffield, who played well against California while substituting for Don Williams, will be given a chance to start at the quarterback position.

Aspit and Mortensen will fill the halves and Ritchey will be at fullback. All Trojan regulars will see service before the game is finished, Jones said.

BERKELEY, Oct. 24.—Young football players who are expected to shine for California in 1929 and 30 will undergo their baptism in fast competition Saturday when the Golden Bear meets the veteran Olympic club.

Coach "Nibs" Price today held to his decision to start sophomores against the Clubmen, thus keeping the veterans safe and sound for Oregon, Washington and finally Stanford.

One backfield combination Price is grooming consists of "Moose" Garrity, Joel Coffield, Harry Bruno and "Red" Gill. Edred Lane, halfback who played some last season, also came in for attention.

Price's present strategy seems to be to start his most experienced men outside of the regulars against the Olympics and then run in his sophomores.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 24.—Development of power plays and perfection of a few "last minute" deceptive maneuvers continue to occupy the football slate at Stanford.

PLAN ENLARGEMENT OF YANK STADIUM

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Colonel Jake Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, may have the wooden bleachers at Yankee stadium replaced by a double-decked concrete grandstand, so that the stadium's capacity for a football game will be increased to 125,000. Engineers of the Osborne company of Cleveland are working on the plans.

The present seating capacity of the stadium for baseball is 72,000 and there is standing room for an additional 10,000 persons. These alterations may be completed by this time next year if Col. Ruppert decides to have the stands enlarged.

Layton, Hoppe To Play L. A. Series

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Willie Hoppe, world's 12.1 ball line billiard champion, and Johnny Layton, national three-cushion titleholder, will play a 300-point exhibition match here, starting next Monday.

TWO UNBEATEN TEAMS VIE IN ELI-ARMY TILT

By TOM THORP
(N. M. S. Special Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Yale and Army appear to be evenly matched for their football classic in the New Haven bowl Saturday. Both aggregations have played exceptionally fine ball since the start of the season. Each has an unbroken string of victories to its credit. Picking the winner is like attempting to foretell the coming national election. Each side is claiming a victory.

The West Pointers look to have a slight advantage in the matter of experience on their Eli rivals. "Biff" Jones has a veteran team. "Red" Cagle is a back who must be reckoned with in any company. He is the big threat in the Army backfield. Murrell, O'Keefe, Allen and Nova are other backs that have shown good form under fire. They look to enjoy a slight edge on the backs of the Eli team.

Johnny Garvey is the star of the Eli's as he is depending on to offset this advantage. This sturdy lad has made football history at New Haven this year. Against Georgia and Brown he displayed a brilliancy that makes him just as much of a threat to the Army as Cagle will be to the Eli's. Murrell, O'Keefe and Nova makes the advantage which may turn the tide of victory in the Army's favor.

Some have said the present Army team is not the equal of last year's squad. That is a false estimate of the true value of the eleven Jones has developed on the West of Point plains. In every game the Soldiers have shown superior quality to their predecessors.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Forgetting its 7 to 6 defeat by Nebraska termed questionable by some Syracuseans on the ground that the Orangemen should have been credited with a safety and two points in the second period, the Syracuse varsity concentrated today on the Penn State game. The Nittany Lions scored a 9 to 6 victory last year and the locals are seeking revenge.

FIGHT RESULTS

CHICAGO—Mushy Callahan, Los Angeles, and Bobby Tracey, Buffalo, drew (10); Bobby LaSalle, San Francisco, knocked out George Russell, New York (3).

INDIANAPOLIS—Eddie Shea defeated Frankie Garcia (10).
PORTLAND, Ore.—Young Nationalist, Filipino, won a close 10-round decision from Charlie Pinto, Buffalo, N. Y. The night Nationalist scored knockdowns in the first and second rounds but slowed up.

Bell, Clark, Blower, Chavez, Hancock and Hall looked best in Santa Ana's lineup. Hall injured his leg in the second period but gamely resumed play. Leonard, Lindsey, Givens and Johnston starred for Tustin. The lineup:

SELLING WHOLESALE NOW
The owners of the San Francisco Pacific Coast league club may pull something new in the way of a sale during the winter months by disposing of its outfield as a unit.

Batteries have been sold before and the St. Louis Browns and the New York Yankees bought second base combinations last year but it is not recalled that any major league ball club ever bought an entire outfield from one club.

The San Francisco magnates have been trying to get a pile of money for Smead Jolley but major league purchasers balked at the price. They then suggested that they would throw the other two outfielders, Earl Averill and Roy Johnson in for the proper price.

And the Cleveland Indians are said to be ready to talk business if they already have not agreed upon terms.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 30 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.—Adv.

Today's high-compression motors have as little as one thirty-second of an inch "clearance" between cylinder head and pistons—too little space to allow even a thin layer of hard carbon without causing trouble. Shell Motor Oil, forming less carbon, soft carbon, is almost an essential to proper performance of motors of this type.

"These new type motors—how sensitive they are!"
They demand an oil that forms no hard carbon

Harmful in any motor, gritty, coke-like carbon from burned oil is even more serious in motors of the new high-compression type.

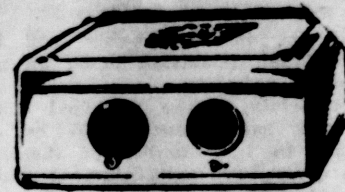

So, like other motorists, you have probably come face to face with the carbon problem.

Many otherwise good lubricants form layers of hard, flinty carbon within your motor. Abrasive bits grind through bearings; larger flakes hold valves open; red-hot "nibs" cause knocking.

Put some waste crankcase oil on a pane of glass—tilt it till the excess drains off. See the gritty coke-carbon that has been cutting its way through your engine?

The little carbon that Shell Motor Oil forms—less than the most expensive oils—soft, soot-like. Most of it flows away through the exhaust.

It is in both the amount of carbon and the kind that you may judge a motor oil. Let us give you the striking facts about one oil.

Less carbon—soft carbon
Shell Motor Oil actually forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as even the highest priced oils; And the little it forms is only a soft soot that blows easily away.

None of the sturdy body of this new lubricant is lost in refining. It comes to you with heat-resisting qualities, with lubricant value, far in excess of the good oils of the past.

Refill with Shell Motor Oil. Get its finer lubrication, its freedom from destructive carbon. Let it "add thousands of miles to the life of your car."

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that burns cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by "thinning" with a "wet" gas

CONSOLIDATION OF R.C.A., K.A.O. IS CONFIRMED

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Confirmation of the proposed merger of the Radio Corporation of America and the Keith-Albee-Orpheum corporation indicated that negotiations were under way today for the formation of the largest amusement enterprise in the world. The new company probably will be known as the Radio Keith Orpheum corporation.

Stockholders of the K-A-O group were notified yesterday by E. K. Albee, heading a committee, that holders of more than 40 per cent of the common stock, including officers and a majority of directors, had agreed to the organization of the new company.

Share for Share

The notification said the new company would offer class A stock, share for share, for KAO common stock.

Class B stock in a block of 500,000 shares will be issued by the new company in consideration of contracts to be made with the Radio corporation, R.C.A. Photophone, Inc., and the National Broadcasting company.

David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio corporation, will be chairman of the new company and the radio corporation will be represented substantially on the board.

Holders of stock of the Film Booking Office Productions, Inc., also are offered opportunity to participate in the exchange of shares.

AL SMITH TO BE ON AIR AGAIN TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith's campaign address in Boston will be broadcast from the Boston arena tonight from 9 to 10 p. m., eastern time, over a nationwide network of the National Broadcasting company, including KFI, Los Angeles. The program will start at 6 p. m. Pacific Coast time.

Due to the radio arrangements made to broadcast the Democratic nominee's speech, the broadcast of the Pioneer of American Industry dinner, at which Lord Melchett, Charles M. Schwab and Nicholas Murray Butler are to speak, has been postponed until 10 p. m.

primary development, under the new plan, it was said.

Later, these probably will be broadcast, television being an ultimate objective.

Officials of the principal companies said there would be no limit to the number of theaters to which such entertainment might be flashed. Through arrangements with foreign radio firms, theaters in Britain and on the continent might share in the programs.

The nucleus of 700 Keith-Albee theaters and the production facilities of the F.B.O., together with the booking connections of the National Broadcasting company through the latter's concert bureau, offers unusual program-making resources.

MRS. SPANGLER APPEALS FOR WOMEN'S VOTE

Because of the public interest manifested in the address delivered last night by Mrs. Pay R. Spangler, over KWTC, in behalf of Herbert Hoover's candidacy for president, The Register is printing the full text of the talk.

Mrs. Spangler's speech was as follows:

I have followed the life of Herbert Hoover with great interest and attention.

I am for Herbert Hoover for president because I believe he is the best man in America today for that high office. He represents to my mind the finest product of our system of public education, of trained mind and understanding heart. He has known the weariness of toil and the strain of manual labor. He has faced and solved problems which taxed the ingenuity of the world's greatest statesmen. He has never failed to rise to the demands made upon him.

His life is an inspiration and a challenge to American youth, for an orphan at the age of 11 years, without money or influence, he has made his life one of the most useful in history. No man is known by more people in more lands for his beneficent work among them than Herbert Hoover. With a war record of service to his fellow men that would have made lesser souls content to rest on their laurels, his career as a public benefactor reached its climax in the two flood tragedies in our country where, by patience and wisdom in unparalleled degree, he enabled thousands of flood-stricken citizens to rehabilitate themselves.

Herbert Hoover is closer today to the hearts of the American people than any other man in public life. He possesses their confidence and trust. His knowledge of the problems of the farmer and the laborer is the knowledge that comes from contact and experience. In my opinion, no man has ever brought to the candidacy of the high office of president of the United States such complete equipment of character, ability, experience and training as has the candidate of the republican party, Herbert Hoover.

Having worked as chairman of "Better Homes in America," an educational organization, under the leadership of Herbert Hoover as its president, his help and guidance in meeting the greatest needs of families have brought out the highest ideals and service.

The election of a man openly pledged to weaken our prohibition laws would check the material and spiritual progress of this country. This alone is a challenge to the women of America, who are the "home makers," to vote for a man who is vitally interested in the welfare of the people of our country, Herbert Hoover.

Sam Collins Will Be Speaker Over KWTC At 5:55 P. M.

Sam Collins, deputy district attorney of Orange county, will be Santa Ana Hoover headquarters' speaker tonight over KWTC. It was announced today. Collins will be on the air between 5:55 and 6 o'clock.

What perhaps will be one of the most interesting political speeches tonight will be that of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, whose address, in the east, will be retransmitted by two Los Angeles stations, KPLA and KMTR. His talk will start at 5:30 p. m., coast time.

Political programs for tomorrow were announced as follows:

KPLA, 7:30 to 7:45 p. m., Joseph Ford; KFI, 8 to 8:30 p. m., rebroadcast of eastern speeches; KMTR, starting at 8 a. m., five-minute talk by representative of women's division; KOPJ, 8:15 to 9:45 a. m., representatives of women's division. Minutemen will speak from 24 stations.

WGY REQUEST FOR FULL TIME DENIED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Louis E. Caldwell, general counsel of the federal radio commission, advised station WGY, Schenectady, N. Y., today the commission cannot consider its application for full time use of a wave length already assigned to the Pacific coast zone.

To grant WGY's request, Caldwell said, would deprive many western stations of their present broadcasting privileges and would interfere seriously with radio reception from station KGO, Oakland, Calif. The Oakland station now shares time with WGY on the clear channel at 700 kilocycles.

The commission's order permitting WGY to broadcast on that wave until sunset, Pacific Coast time, curtails its broadcasting only slightly late in the evening, Caldwell said. He told WGY it must amend its application to ask for a different wave before a hearing can be granted.

DOUBLE SCHOOL SESSIONS WILL BE NECESSARY

Double sessions at the Artesia school will be necessary early in November, R. E. Drake, superintendent of buildings and grounds, reported to the board of education last night.

Attendance at the school on October 10 had climbed to 377, Drake stated, pointing out that this figure is over 150 greater than at approximately the same time last year. On October 7, last year, the enrollment was 219.

All the rooms are crowded today, according to Drake, who said that 48 youngsters are working in one, while others are housing 44, 45 and 46 pupils. In the kindergarten there are 33 youngsters, which is a larger group than can be accommodated efficiently in the room, he said.

Architect Before Board
M. C. Parker, Santa Ana architect, and T. C. Kistner, Los Angeles building designer, offered their services to the board last night in case a building program is launched. Kistner would plan new buildings while Parker would supervise their construction. Dr. John Ball, president of the board, pointed out that the body would have to agree unanimously to calling a new bond election before definite action on this question could be taken. He intimated that the matter might be considered in the near future.

Drake was instructed to write to Holmes and Sanborn, Los Angeles contractors, who are supervising construction of a new central heating plant in the high school, requesting them to give closer attention to the project. Drake informed the board that specifications had not been carried out by certain contractors on the job. A boiler made of three-sixteenths inch steel had been delivered in place of one made of one-quarter inch material, he said, reading a letter from Holmes and Sanborn to the contracting firm in which the latter was asked to replace the boiler.

Accept Insurance Plan
The board accepted a recommendation from its insurance committee for adopting a blanket form of insurance for school buildings through which 90 per cent coverage is to be secured. The committee was instructed to begin preparation of forms for the insurance. John Henderson, chairman of the committee with O. M. Robbins, a member, reported the recommendations of the group last night. E. M. Sundquist, H. M. Secrest and L. G. Swales complete the committee. An appraisal of the school buildings recently was completed and the insurance rearrangement is expected to result in an efficient system of protection.

The board again discussed the cafeteria situation in the high school and college. The plant seats about 115 and Drake reported that there are from 250 to 300 persons who would use it if they could be served.

EXCHANGEITES PAY TRIBUTE TO IRVING DOYLE

The Santa Ana Exchange club yesterday gave honor to the memory of Irving Doyle, a member who passed away last week. At the request of Lester Tubbs, program chairman, the members rose and stood for a moment in silent meditation at the opening of the meeting in Ketter's cafe. Mrs. Cecile Fross Willits, accompanied by Miss Aileen Lair, sang "My Task," a sacred song, in memory of Doyle.

A code of ethics of the national Exchange organization was presented to each member yesterday. Through the co-operation of Stanley Clem, a member of the Santa Ana club, the documents were framed in gum wood.

Mrs. Willits, accompanied by Miss Lair, sang two other numbers which were greeted by the club with enthusiastic appreciation. Her first song was "For You" and the second was "The Desert Song."

CLYDE DOWNING MAKES CHEST DRIVE APPEAL

Declaring that the Community Chest campaign should be a community festival in which everyone interested in Santa Ana should contribute to the fund, Clyde Downing, general chairman of the campaign, said today that no "high pressure" methods would be used in inducing subscriptions.

"Community pride should be an inducement for everyone competent, financially, to do his bit in providing funds for taking care of the institutions benefiting by the chest," Downing said, in explaining that Santa Ana had a real obligation to the organizations for the humane work they are doing.

At a meeting of the board of directors, yesterday, Downing suggested that the board members serve as members of the campaign executive committee and the suggestion was adopted. The committee will assist in lining up the organization needed for the drive.

Four general departments of the campaign, decided upon yesterday, will be as follows:

Educational and publicity department—Charged with the responsibility of bringing the chest message to all the citizens in Santa Ana in the most effective manner through co-operation with the newspapers, churches, schools, clubs, theaters and other means of publicity.

Team organization department.—To be composed of the men's and women's organizations. The men will have the responsibility of securing subscriptions from the downtown district and the women the residential districts.

Advance gift department.—Will be responsible for securing subscriptions in advance of the campaign from those who are able to subscribe in larger amounts.

Headquarters department.—To have charge of the luncheon arrangements, etc., during campaign week.

way theater, played two piano solos, "Flapperette" and "The Doll Dance," at the request of Tubbs, who voiced the appreciation of the club for his work and for that of Mrs. Willits and Miss Lair.

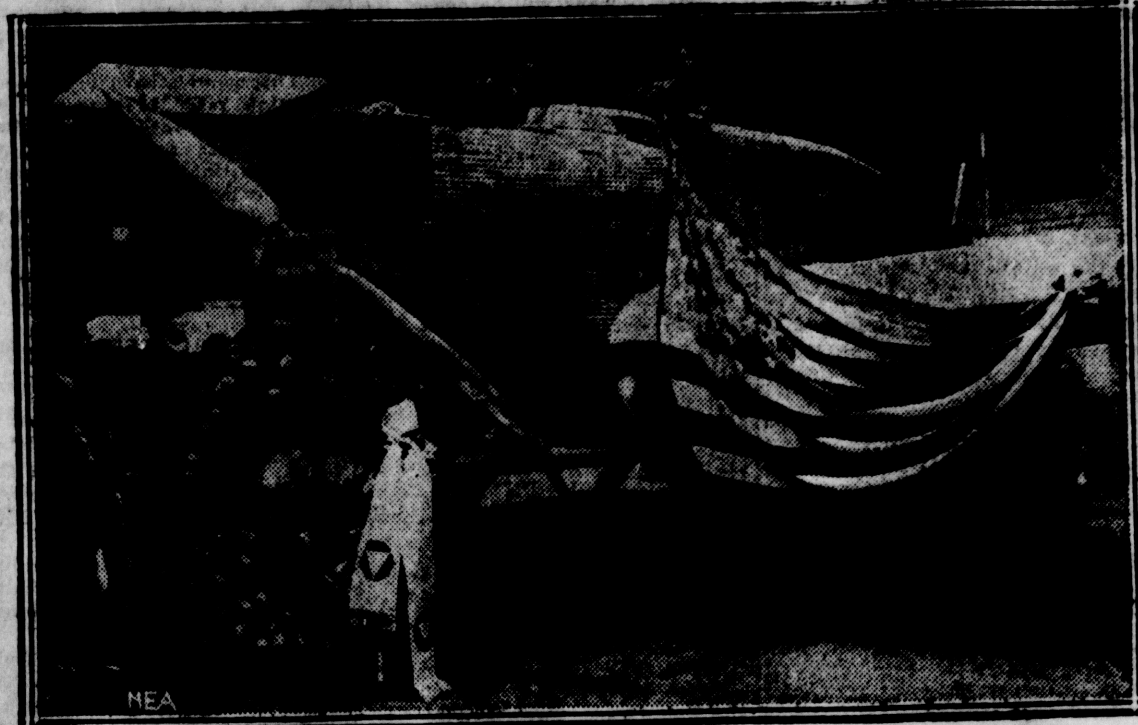

Gene Douglas, president, outlined the method by which the club will elect its officers for next year. A nominating committee will be appointed to select two or more candidates for each office. When the election is held, members may nominate others from the floor if they wish. The board of control will be appointed by the president-elect.

Mrs. Willits was made an honorary member of the organization by a vote of the club. Charles Van Wyk, former commander of the American Legion here, became a member.

MORE THAN 500 STUDENT BODY TICKETS SOLD

Over 500 Santa Ana high school students have purchased student body tickets since the opening of school.

"This year's sale shows a decided increase over the one conducted last year," according to LeRoy Arnold, commissioner of finance, in charge of the sale.

Student body tickets this year sell for $3.50, a decrease of 50 cents from last year's price. A ticket entitles admission to all league football, basketball and baseball games, league debates and other inter-scholastic events, as well as a copy of the Generator, weekly high school publication, and a copy of the Ariel, high school year book, published in June.

According to a recent ruling, all holders of student offices, or those who wish to participate in athletic events, must be owners of student body tickets.

BE CAUTIOUS IF YOU FEEL DESIRE TO PARK YOUR CAR IN FRONT OF POST OFFICE

If you feel a desire to park your car in front of one of Uncle Sam's mail dispensing offices today anywhere outside the limits of an incorporated city, drive on around the block and think the matter over before making a decision.

Then consult your watch. If you don't have one, look at some jeweler's timepiece. If the hour happens to be between 8:30 and 9 a. m. drive on past just as if you hadn't considered even the idea of parking.

For the board of supervisors yesterday authorized Nat Neff, highway superintendent, to paint the post office curbs red as a warning that the space is "verboten" between 8:30 and 9 a. m. The United States mail has the right-of-way for this half hour daily, the board decided, and nothing can interfere with its rapid dispatch, either in or out.

Cities may and do make their own regulations on this subject and the supervisors' action applies only to post offices in communities that are not incorporated.

PROGRAM FOR SOUSA CONCERT IS ANNOUNCED

Santa Ana music lovers are to be provided a wonderful afternoon on Thursday, November 8, when Lt. Com. John Philip Sousa and his band will be presented in concert by the high school in the school auditorium, for Sousa has submitted the program proposed for the entertainment of this city.

It will be a program of varied entertainment features, for in addition to the ensemble numbers by the band, there will be various solo numbers, including Miss Marjory Bowman's rendering of "The Beautiful Blue Danube," by Richard Strauss; cornet solo, "Soldier's Dream," by Rogers, played by William Tong, and xylophone solo, "Ghost of the Warrior," by Grossman, played by Howard Goulden.

Band numbers will include a number of Sousa's own compositions, notably "A Study in Rhythms," "Minnesota," a new march, and his suite "At the King's Court," of which "Her Ladyship, the Countess," "Her Grace, the Duchess" and "Her Majesty, the Queen" will be played. Other anticipated selections in which the famous composer will direct his organization include the Prelude and "Life and Death" from the big Wagner opera, "Tristan and Isolde," a selection from one of Victor Herbert's operas and the "Parade of the Gendarmes," by Lake.

The Wagner numbers will be given special emphasis.

ANTS WORRY BANK
ELMER, Mo., Oct. 24.—White ants are undermining the Exchange Bank building here. Wooden portions of the floor and foundation are being devoured by them. So far, efforts to dislodge them have been futile.

Expansion Of Jr. College Needed Soon

The question of a new union junior college district for this region again came before the Santa Ana board of education last night when R. H. Drake, superintendent of buildings and grounds, reported that the situation here is rapidly outgrowing both buildings and space.

Drake, in his report, suggested the possibility that neighboring communities might be interested in a union district. Provision for expansion must be made in the near future, he declared.

According to McKee Fisk, dean of the college, only 38.1 per cent of the 406 students there are graduates of the Santa Ana high school. There are 35 or 40 special students living in Santa Ana and the remainder of the college population graduated from other high schools, he said today.

MEASURE HIT BY PLACENTIA C. C. DIRECTOR

PLACENTIA, Oct. 24.—The amendment in favor of reapportionment of legislative districts was denounced by Wintrop Bower at the Placentia Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday. While admitting that he probably stood alone in this belief, he stated that Alameda and San Francisco were for it, and he believed it would give the balance of power into the hands of northern California.

Each member of the chamber was given an amendment and asked to give a short talk on it. Only the first few were taken up at this meeting, Bower speaking on No. 1, Ralph McFadden saying a few words in favor of No. 2. He declared that a 25 cent tax per capita would cover the amount asked for the Olympic games, while the value of the advertising would be invaluable.

Tom Pickrell announced that room No. 8 of the Bradford street school had been opened for the Spanish class and that the first lesson would be this evening at 7 o'clock. Twenty-six members have signed up and the only cost is for books, the high school furnishing the teacher.

BANK DEPOSITS GROW. HOUSES IN BIG DEMAND

Easterners are flocking into Santa Ana in greater numbers than at any time in the last two to three years, according to a declaration made today by Herb Allenman, secretary of the Santa Ana Realty board, and George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Bankers show a great increase in deposits, with thousands of dollars being deposited by newcomers in Santa Ana for the winter or to remain permanently, it was indicated by bankers.

"Hardly a day passes but that three or four newcomers drop in to the office seeking information about Santa Ana and particularly about the availability of good residences," Raymer said.

Allenman added to this statement the declaration that first class modern residences today are at a premium.

"There are vacant houses, of course, but they are of the old type of building," Allenman said. The secretary declared that all realtors of the city have reported that the demand for good houses is far in excess of the supply.

In commenting on the large number of new residents in the city at the present time, Raymer predicted that the influx would be even greater following the election, for it is a known fact that there are many persons in the east who regard it their duty to vote and who have deferred departure for this state until they express themselves at the polls. In the opinion of the chamber secretary, there will be still others who will come here after the holidays.

"Santa Ana is attracting attention more than ever and it is my belief that our winter population will be the greatest in the history of the city," Raymer said.

FRED GETS GATE

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—Fred Wambach received the proverbial gate in divorce court here recently. Judge Harry J. Dingeman granted the petition on Mrs. Hazel Wambach's plea that Fred smashed furniture, used liquor too freely and on one occasion tried to set fire to their home.

FAINTS; BABY DROWNS
LIVERPOOL, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Mary Powell fainted while bathing her three-months-old baby. The infant fell into the tub, containing three inches of water, and was found dead near the unconscious mother a short time later.

Accommodations for 3000 autos is planned in an eight-story garage to be built in London. Cars will be taken to the various heights in electric elevators.

What Does Just "HATS" Mean to You?

Does it just mean "Stetsons," which you know are good hats and which you can find in several men's stores in Santa Ana? Does it just mean the prevailing styles in light-weight hats, the Italians, Belgians, and so on, at a moderate price, around $5 or so?

Or are you one who understands the Vandermaast viewpoint on Hats and thinks that it is okay?

Our idea is that Style comes first. Quality next, and that Vandermaast FITTING SERVICE puts the "crowning touch" on the deal! There may be others who can choose just as good colors, styles and values as we can. But we have our own way of making the hat fit the man's features and appearance.

When we sell you a hat, you like it, your wife likes it, and that's all there is worth saying on the subject.

Miss Christie Ross Is Loveliest of Brides

Miss Christie Anna Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ross of Irvine, was the loveliest of brides last night as she and Elmer Burnett Lane of this city plighted their troth at the Church of the Brethren.

Miss Ross was becomingly gowned in white satin with a long lace veil caught to her head with a band of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Earl Bashor of this city, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pretty dress of ecru lace over a rose satin slip. Her flowers were sweet peas. Mr. Bashor acted as best man.

Miss Maxine Wells of this city and Miss Marian Froehlich of Los Angeles were bridesmaids. They wore blue and green frocks and carried sweet peas.

Thomas Cone and Leonard Ross were ushers.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. Roy P. Hylton, pastor of the Church of the Brethren. The church was decorated with baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and at the altar where the service was performed an arch of flowers and fern had been arranged.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wynn of Ritchey street. Mr. Wynn is an uncle of Mr. Lane. The delicious wedding supper was served by Mrs. Grace Mendenhall and Mrs. Thomas LeBar, sisters of the groom.

Following a honeymoon in northern California, the young people will be at home at 2907 Orange avenue, this city.

Mrs. Lane is a member of one of Orange county's pioneer families. She is a granddaughter of the late Samuel Ross. Her father is a rancher near Irvine. She attended the Tustin high school and has been studying nursing at the Santa Ana Valley hospital for some time.

Mr. Lane is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school. At present he is cadet master at the Santa Ana Country club.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

THOSE NEIGHBOR CHILDREN
I culled this priceless item from the woman's page of a newspaper that invites such confidences by paying a dollar for the best "household help" sent in for the day:

"I never tell the neighbors' children to go home (sometimes they are apt to stay too long), but I put a cookie in a bag, tie it, and ask them not to open it until they go home. It is surprising how soon they leave."

I wonder if she ever has repeats? I am sure if I were one of those children I would open the bag when I got around the corner, eat the cookie, then go back and exercise childish blackmail on her cookie jar.

Would you like to know how to amuse the baby without work on your part? Look in this column tomorrow for the answer.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Bread Pudding De Luxe
1 quart milk
2 cups stale bread crumbs
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 egg yolk, well beaten
1 large teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Meringue For Pudding
3 egg whites
1-2 cup powdered sugar.
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1-2 cup tart jelly.

Here is a pudding large enough for a family of six or eight. It is smaller, you can easily have a delicious dessert for dinner next day by putting the pudding away to chill, cut it then in slices, dip in egg and crumbs and quickly brown in hot butter. Serve with powdered sugar or a lemon sauce.

Of course you are a careful housekeeper—dry bread is dehydrated, dried and rolled for crumbs.

Heat the milk, beat the eggs and sugar, a pinch of salt and the lemon rind. Combine the two and remove from the fire at once. Mix into a buttered baking dish and bake for half an hour. Then spread the jelly—some tart kind like currant—over the pudding top, pile on the meringue, and brown in a very slow oven.

The success of a meringue depends on the way it is beaten and the way the sugar and eggs are combined. Beat the whites until very frothy and half thick, begin adding the sugar (sift it) a tablespoonful at a time, beating well after each addition.

By the time the sugar is all in the meringue is very stiff and glossy. Whip in the lemon juice and brown as directed, with the heat very low. 15 minutes is not too long.

Some 2500 calories make their voices heard in this pudding—pretty husky energy-and-protein calories in this pudding, do you know that? It is suitable for a dinner low in energy foods, i. e., a vegetable dinner, or white fish and vegetables—any meal in which fats and starchy foods are absent.

Holiday fruit cakes to be at their best should be made a full month or longer before using. They should be stored—do you know how? A stamped, self-addressed envelope brings you this interesting leaflet promptly, and free of charge.

TOMORROW we'll have Deviled Crab and other suggestions for using this delicious shell fish.

ANN MEREDITH.

Aims and Ideals of Whittier College Discussed

A group from Whittier college and citizens of Orange county met at dinner last evening at the Santa Ana Country club. The group were the guests of President Dexter of Whittier college and Mr. O. H. Barr of Santa Ana was the toastmaster of the evening.

Among those present was the chairman of the board of trustees, H. L. Perry, the former president of the college, Dr. Thomas Newlin, C. C. Chapman of Fullerton who is chairman of the board of directors of the California Christian college, principals of high schools of the county, and superintendent of public instruction of Santa Ana, Mr. J. A. Cranston, together with a number of graduates of Whittier college, residents of Orange county.

The object of the meeting was to establish a real understanding between the people of Orange county and Whittier college, which is so near them. As President Dexter stated it in a part of his address, it was to make for aggressive friendliness on the part of those present.

A musical program was presented by Miss Margaret Hadley, Miss Meyers, and Miss Fogelman, all students at Whittier college, after which various men were called upon to make talks regarding the school.

C. C. Chapman gave a brief review of the work of Whittier college during the last five years, or since President Dexter came in. He showed how in the three objects which President Dexter started out to attain he has wonderfully achieved. First in respect to a larger income, second in respect to the adequate building program and third the increasing number of students at Whittier. He stated that nearly $100,000 per year had been gained in endowment and investment for the institution each year since President Dexter has taken charge, that new buildings have been erected and that the student body has increased several fold, numbering now 452.

On introducing President Dexter, Mr. Barr said that he had heard of men who, when they spoke, usually were clappers and very infrequently rang the bell, but he said President Dexter is a man who on all occasions is a bell ringer and not a bell clapper.

President Dexter stated that Whittier college had definitely planned to carry out a particular program in its college work. It proposed to co-ordinate the teachings in all branches for great purposes. The first was the recognition of the home life as being the very foundation of our civilization, the second was the necessary preparation for a vocation, the third was a clear philosophy of life as to what it means and what it is all about so that one can sit in to accomplish for definite objects. The fourth was the training for a life of leisure, a necessary part of our civilization. He spoke of how Whittier college was accomplishing this. That this coming commencement time would see graduated from the first class which has taken the course established on this program and he said already they could see definite results among the students. He drew attention to the strategic location of Whittier college in respect to Orange county and the industrial area of Los Angeles county and invited his guests to visit the campus of the college and to bring other friends with them.

Following Mr. Dexter, Mr. Cranston, superintendent of schools in Santa Ana who was introduced by Mr. Barr with the statement that with the term he was now serving, Mr. Cranston would have served Santa Ana for 25 years. Mr. Cranston spoke very emphatically and clearly of the fine work which the graduates of Whittier college were doing as teachers in the public schools of Santa Ana. He gave specific instances of such occasions.

Former President Newlin of the college spoke and said that the finest piece of work he ever did was in making the motion that President Dexter should be called to Whittier college.

The chairman of the board, Mr. Perry, was introduced and also Mr. A. Wardman, who recently gave to Whittier college $100,000 from the proceeds of which have been constructed two dormitories and a gymnasium.

Mr. and Mrs. Swales Hosts at Pretty Dinner Party

One of the loveliest of recent social affairs was the dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Swales of 339 South Broadway were hosts last night.

Guests were seated at one large table which was especially attractive with its huge bowl of chrysanthemums in shades of gold and brown. The beautiful flowers, which were grown in the Swales gardens, were used throughout the entire house.

Mrs. Swales was assisted in serving by her three daughters, Mrs. Lyman Farwell, Miss Migonne Swales, and Miss Emaline Swales.

An especially pleasing feature in the dessert course was the huge birthday cake which was placed in front of Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank whose birthday anniversary is today. Mrs. Cruickshank was further remembered with a special gift.

Bridge was enjoyed throughout the evening hours and resulted in Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank's holding high scores while Mrs. J. L. Clark and George Smith were second. Each received attractive gifts.

Those enjoying the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Swales were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Oles, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crookshank, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson.

Wrycende Maegdenu Hold Fellowship Banquet

The Rev. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Fullerton, chose "Broadening Horizons" as the theme for an interesting talk which he gave last night at a nation wide fellowship banquet held by the Wrycende Maegdenu club of the Y. W. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The banquet was one of many held throughout the United States by Y. W. C. A. business girls' clubs.

The affair opened with the reading of the statement of the purpose of the National Woman's assembly of business women by Miss Mabel Pruitt, president of the local club, who presided over last night's banquet.

A message from Elsie West of New York City who was the delegate from the United States to the international Y. W. C. A. conference in Budapest, Hungary, was read. The letter contained many bits of interesting information regarding customs in European countries visited by her this summer.

Greetings were also received from the Washington business girls' club.

A short musical program included two piano numbers, "Lobsträume" by List and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in G Sharp Minor." Jerry Tannenbaum gave a cornet number, "Walther's Prize Song" by Wagner with his mother, Mrs. Adolph Tannenbaum accompanying at the piano.

A color scheme of blue and gold, the club colors, was carried out in decorating the banquet tables. Gay yellow chrysanthemums and tall blue tapers and blue nut cups were used to advantage. The program for the evening was printed on blue blotters in recognition of the fact that the seventy guests were all business girls.

X. Y. Z. Bridge Club Is Entertained

Mrs. Sam Newnes was hostess to the X. Y. Z. bridge club of Placentia, Monday at her home. Mrs. J. Willis Bennie won first prize and Mrs. Elmer Hochstein second. Those present were Mrs. Bennie, Mrs. Hochstein, Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. A. J. Barnhart, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Anna De Berry, Mrs. J. L. Orr, and the hostess, Mrs. Newnes.

Women Are Entertained By Flappers of 1880.

Flappers of 1880 were hostesses at the Yorba Linda Women's club Tuesday, and flappers of 1934 modeled the most modern of gowns for the fashion show held in conjunction with the meeting.

Mrs. Ernest Walker, Mrs. Ben Selover, Mrs. J. W. Hargrave, Miss Marsha Vernon, Mrs. J. A. Log-Jon, Mrs. Emile Booge and Mrs. Guy Barman of Olinda were dressed in the gowns of their girlhood and created much amusement as they received the guests.

Mrs. Clara Holland and Mrs. Viola Page of the Vandy Shoppe were in charge of the fashion show and displayed house, street, afternoon and evening frocks and lingerie.

Models for the show were Mrs. H. Hile of Anaheim, Mrs. Howard Brown, Mrs. C. H. Mohler, Miss Louise Gilman, Miss Sue Allice McGuire, Miss Claudia Berry, Miss Blanche White, Miss Edna Burnison, Mrs. Ethel Jensen, Ellen Cochran and Ellen Ruth Holland.

It was announced that the hard times party planned by the music committee had been postponed till November.

Mrs. Mildred Susschka, violin, and Mrs. Ben Selover piano, furnished music during the fashion show, and as a courtesy to the flappers of 1880, the club sang, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Tea was served at the close of the program by the hostesses.

Will Sail Monday For Long Oriental and European Trip

Her plans to embark on Monday on the Dollar liner, President Harrison, for a round-the-world trip, are making Mrs. Clyde Bishop, prominent member of the Business and Professional Women's club, an extremely busy person these days, as she greets the friends who drop in to wish her bon voyage, entertains Los Angeles guests and completes all the multitude of duties in regard to passports and travel arrangements incident to such a journey.

Mrs. Bishop has been planning for some time to take such a trip, and definitely refused her office in the B. and P. W. this year, in order to have nothing interfere with the carrying out of her arrangements. In company with Miss Jane Trask, of Los Angeles she will sail Monday from Los Angeles harbor, with the intention of stopping in Honolulu a little over a week. No longer time will be given the "Island Paradise" since Mrs. Bishop sojournd there for some time in the summer months.

Japan, China and Manila will follow in rotation, and the two travelers have made all arrangements to celebrate Christmas in Singapore. Upon leaving there, they will transfer from the Dollar liner to a British East India steamer and go to Rangoon and Calcutta. A six-weeks' jaunt through the interior of India will follow and they will again take ship at Bombay for Colombo, continuing their voyage until they reach Port Said, from where they will visit Egypt and the Holy Land.

From Beirut they will take an Italian vessel through the Mediterranean, visiting Athens, Constantinople, Tripoli, Naples, etc.

They have no definite plans for touring Europe beyond an intention to spend late March and April in Spain, after which they will arrange their continental route as suit the fancy of the moment. Miss Trask lived for three years in France, and is anticipating renewing old friendships there. The two travelers have set no definite time limit for their journey, but will not return to Southern California for many months.

Santa Ana Lutherans Enjoy Conference

Interest in the Bible conference held each evening at 8 o'clock in the beautiful Angelica Lutheran church, Fourteenth and Burlington streets, Los Angeles, is increasing and large numbers from the various cities of the Southland are enjoying the inspiring Bible expositions given by Professor A. B. Anderson of the St. Paul Bible school. Special music is provided by the choir and soloists from the various Lutheran churches in and around Los Angeles. Friday night will be of special interest to Sunday school workers as Dr. Anderson will have a special message for them. The conference will be extended to Sunday evening, November 4.

Current Events Members Enjoy Luncheon, Bridge

A delightful luncheon at the Ebell clubhouse on French street marked yesterday's meeting of the Current Events section. Miss Louise Tubbs and Mrs. George Osterman were hostesses. Luncheon tables were arranged in the section rooms where quantities of chrysanthemums, grown in the Tubbs' gardens, added to the gaiety of the scene. Tall-tapers centered each table.

Following a short business meeting, the afternoon was devoted to bridge. A pretty gift was presented Mrs. Nick Brock, fortunate possessor of high score while Mrs. George Duncan was consoled with an equally attractive award.

Those present for the meeting included Mrs. Nick Brock, a guest, Mrs. Walter Shifkey, a new member, and Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain, Mrs. Charles V. Doty, Mrs. George W. The plane bobbed 'round' atop the sea, as helpless as a plane could be. The Tynmites swam toward it. One by one they grabbed a hold. "Oh, my, oh, my, what awful luck," cried Clowny, "we are surely stuck right in the great big ocean, and I'm getting very cold."

"Can't someone think of some good way how we can reach dry land today? It surely will not do for us to stay here soaking wet. I wish we'd see a fishing smack, 'cause that might help us to get

The WOMAN'S DAY

By ALLENE SUMNER

When the pretty little Japanese girl, Setsu Matsumura, who, as daughter of Japan's former ambassador to America, attended a girl's school in Washington until very recently, was wed to Prince Chichibu, heir presumptive to the throne of Japan, various strange ceremonies took place.

For one thing, it was necessary for Viscount Morio Matsumura, the girl's uncle, to adopt her before the ceremony so that he could act as her father at the wedding, because her own parents possessed no title, and a prince could not marry a commoner.

We laugh at this clever way of getting over a technical stumbling block, just as we find many phases of a royal Oriental wedding amazing. It is very certain, however, that the Orientals could laugh just as heartily at the hypocrisy of many of our customs in order to get around a technicality, and also find many of our marriage customs such as showers, rice, old shoes, bridesmaids' and ushers' gifts, ring in the cake, tossing of the bride bouquet, and all the rest, as queer as we find their customs.

WOMEN JURORS

With all the discussion as to whether men or women make the better jurors, and with many judges expressing a belief that they prefer women on the jury, the finger has not been laid upon the real reason. If a jury largely composed of women is superior to a male one, may it not be because jury serving is still sufficiently of a novelty to women, shouting, "Help! Help!" now and then. And then a monstrous splash nearby made Scouty very loudly cry, "Oh, look at what is coming. It's our big whale friend again."

"The great big whale came right up near and said, 'Hey, Tinties, have no fear. I'll open up my great big mouth and you can crawl inside.' Upon the whale's teeth they took hold and all did just as they were told. At last they all were safe and sound. 'You've saved us!' Clowny cried especially really intelligent women with curiosity and a passion for knowledge, so that they do not make the effort to escape jury service which practically all but the down-and-out males who need the money do?

By the way, with judges pointing out this superiority of female juries, why don't more than the few states which do permit women on juries take advantage of this superior talent while the game is still fresh enough to inspire the abler women to serve?

THE BABY CROP

Mussolini is not only all steamed up about this growing independence of women, but he now rises to remark that Italy needs more children. In other words, he breaks forth about Italy's need for fresh pastures wherein her too thick population may spread and nourish itself. Even the great seem to speak their little inconsistencies.

HER LAZY BOY

Mrs. Elsie Gage of New York brought her son, Phillip, 20, into court the other day. Mrs. Gage told the judge that Phillip was really a very good boy; he didn't smoke, drink, or hang around the street corners. But he just would not work. Mrs. Gage revealed that she supported not only herself but three children by selling candy at baseball games. She quoted Phillip as saying that "the people who work never smile; so why should I, mama?"

To be sure, while one pities a mother who admits in open court that her son is "the world's laziest boy," one wonders, too, what she has raised that son to believe she expected from him in the way of his assumption of responsibilities. Perhaps it's unfair to make a mother responsible in this day of many more influences than the home alone can give children for what she draws in the way of an adult child. But one does wonder nevertheless!

AT THE THEATERS

WEST COAST-WALKER

D. W. Griffith, the famous motion-picture director, believes that reality is the basis of the greatest drama and in consequence has chosen for the theme of his latest picture a story that might have had its setting in any town or city in America today. His new picture is entitled "The Battle of the Sexes," and tells a story as universal in its appeal and application as a page from Dickens, Hardy or Shakespeare, according to all advance reports. Jean Hersholt, Phyllis Haver, Belle Bennett, Don Alvarado and Sally O'Neill play the leading characters.

"The Battle of the Sexes" is coming to the Walker theater Friday. The actors are Jean Hersholt, remembered for his work in "Don Q," "Stella Dallas" and "Abie's Irish Rose"; Phyllis Haver, the come-on girl in "Chicago" and Shanghai Mabel in "What Price Glory"; Belle Bennett, the immortal mother of "Stella Dallas" and "Mother Macchree"; Don Alvarado, the dashing hero of "Drums of Love"; and Sally O'Neill, the famous Marshal Neilan find who became a star with her first picture, "Mike." Other players are William Bakewell and John Batten.

WEST END

Colleen Moore, who from little girlhood, just knew she was going to be a motion picture star some day, is delighting her admirers in her latest First National screen story, "Orchids and Ermine," now on the screen at the West End theater.

The picture is only one of many proofs that a little girl's dreams sometimes come true, for it seems that the fair Colleen never loses her hold on the hearts of picture goers, nor her ability to portray entertaining and lovable characters.

Her supporting cast is headed by Jack Mulhall and the other players include Sam Hardy, Gwen Lee, Alma Bennett, Hedda Hopper, Kate Price, Jed Prouty, Emily Fitzroy, Caroline Snowden, Yola d'Arvil and Brooks Benedict.

YOST'S BROADWAY

Two feature films, "The Devil's Skipper" starring Belle Bennett, and "Road House" with Lionel Barrymore, provide excellent entertainment for film fans at the Yost Broadway theater.

"The Devil's Skipper" is an adaptation of the Jack London story "Demetrius Contos" and tells of the adventures of a slave trader commanded by a woman who is known far and wide as the "Devil's Skipper." She is cold, aloof, hard to her crew of brigands. But there is just one of the crew, the first mate, who is in her confidence and is aware of the terrible story that had turned a beautiful and cultured New Orleans belle into a stern-visaged and roystering sea captain.

Montagu Love plays the first mate, while Cullen Landis, Mary McAllister and other well-known players are well cast. "Road House," the other feature, is a fast moving, well told story of modern life. Warren Burke as the juvenile, Lionel Barrymore in the dramatic characterization of his father, and Maria Alba as the fascinating siren, are some of the outstanding roles and players.

BOARD HEARS ARGUMENTS ON AMENDMENT 7

The board of supervisors yesterday heard arguments for and against giving its support to the water amendment No. 7, recently submitted for its approval. The measure is supported by irrigation associations and is designed to make possible the conserving of flood waters throughout the state.

Horace Head, Santa Ana attorney, and former Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, of San Juan Capistrano, opposed the project, pointing out that it would not be wise to take any chances of disturbing the present riparian water law, secured after years of effort.

W. L. Deimling, manager for the Southern California Edison company in this district, explained to the board that he believed the measure would allow many farmers in the San Joaquin valley to secure irrigation for dry land, which now is impossible. He stated that his company had no interest in the matter, as it already had acquired the water rights in the valley which it needed.

Daniels Demands Work Be Ousted As G.O.P. Leader

WAYNESVILLE, N. C., Oct. 25.—(UP)—A demand that Herbert Hoover ask the resignation of Dr. Hubert Work as chairman of the republican national committee was made in a speech here by Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy.

Daniels said if Dr. Work did not resign the republican party in consequence must accept the responsibility of his renewal of the Salt Creek oil lease to the Sinclair interests. The contract was renewed last spring by Dr. Work, who then was secretary of the interior.

THE CHIEF OPPORTUNITY OF THE YEAR

Preparations are being made for the campaign on behalf of the Community Chest. The actual and active work for the various agencies which are beneficiaries of the chest will begin November 19th.

Already the committee and the manager in charge are enlisting the services of the workers. There is no appeal of a public nature which can come with greater force than does this appeal from these institutions of the city.

During the entire year our time, our energies, and our attention are given to ourselves. We spend these hours in accumulation or in recreation, games, travel, and amusements. But during a very brief period, once each year, we are asked as citizens, as friends, as members of a great brotherhood to give our undivided attention to the character-forming and socializing factors of the city which are general in their nature and must be supported, if they are supported, by the voluntary gifts of our people.

So this is the time when the moral, the spiritual, in fact all the generous impulses of our nature should become positively regnant to the end that we can put something of ourselves into the formation of character of others and in aiding those who have been less fortunate than we.

We should long for and even seek an opportunity to serve, in any capacity possible, during this interesting and important community effort, not only for the good we may accomplish for others, but also for the redemption of ourselves from a narrow, restricted, and selfish life.

It is the one great effort of the year from which all partisan, ecclesiastical, and clanish lines are completely obliterated. It is the period when the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man is emphasized, and if such period is rightly used by the citizens of our city we can find that we possess a real community soul, which manifests itself in a great response, vibrating personality.

Our faithful servants, who are directing the energies of the various agencies, are finding greater obligations, newer and peculiar problems due to conditions which are different from those they found in other communities and in other climates. They are meeting these conditions just as far as we permit them to do so by our response with time and means. We are certain all those who are requested to do specific work on behalf of the campaign will give immediate and favorable response.

We believe it would be well if the service clubs, churches, and societies of all kinds would bear in mind the period which has been set apart for the Community Chest, and either suspend social engagements during that period, or use those social engagements entirely to the end of pressing home to the minds and hearts of the people of the city the opportunities and obligations to do our part in this cause.

It would be well if the same could be true of private individuals. Let us set apart these days as sacred to higher causes for our community than the recreation and social life that makes up practically every other period of the year.

Let us respond so as to dignify these organizations, which are so serving us, into a place of supreme importance in our city life—let us fill the lives of our servants, who are putting in their entire time on behalf of others, with the joy that comes from the consciousness of a loving labor really appreciated.

It takes a ray of light 36,000 years to travel from Hercules to the earth. It ought to incorporate and charge a 10-cent fare.

NUMBER 19 ON THE BALLOT

Number 19 on the ballot is an amendment to the Constitution which would allow a defendant and his counsel in a felony case to waive trial by jury if the prosecuting attorney agreed.

As it is now, a defendant must be tried by a jury whether he wants it or not. This amendment takes away no right for it only gives him the right to be tried by the court alone if he so chooses.

The chances are that convictions of guilty defendants will be more swift and certain if the trial of both facts and law is in the hands of the court. His experience and training in sifting evidence and detecting false testimony is so much greater than that of the jury that truth and justice will more surely result.

The saving in money to the counties will undoubtedly be great. The county pays the entire cost of the jury in criminal cases and whenever a defendant waives the jury the fees are saved. In misdemeanor cases the defendant now may waive the jury and be tried by the court. There can be no harm in this amendment and much good will result.

EXTENDING LIFE OF CORPORATION

Ballot number 14 seeks to permit public utility corporations to extend their terms of existence and make the extension dependent upon the consent of the Railroad Commission or such regulatory body as at the time shall have the control of the issuance of securities by the public utility.

The amendment, however, makes it clear that no such extension of existence shall be construed as extending the term of any franchise. The measure is only fair to the stockholders of these public utilities who have made their investments expecting to be protected by the state and would prevent the necessity of a new corporation being formed to take over the one about to go out of existence. The extension can be made only by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders so they can protect themselves from an undue extension of the life of the corporation.

Many other business corporations organized under the laws of California may extend its existence, if application is made before its present term expires.

PRIZES, HOT-DOGS AND BEAUTY

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly for October calls attention to the increasing offering of prizes with considerable well-placed humor in the citation of instances of this strange new mania, for example that of the prize for the "all-American" history of the United States, probably an idea inspired by Mayor Thompson of Chicago. "Facts are said to be stubborn things," she says, "but they have been relegated before now to subordinate positions; and if ten thousand dollars cannot soften them into acquiescence, or banish them entirely, of what use is American money?"

Again Miss Repplier tells of the prizes offered by the Unitarian Association of England, one of ten guineas, one of fifteen guineas, and one of twenty guineas for three messages designed to convert Roman Catholics, Jews, and Mohammedans to the truths of Unitarianism. "The value of the awards," says Miss Repplier, "was held to be nicely balanced by the difficulties of the task. It ought to be ten guineas easier to convert a Catholic than to convert a Mohammedan who has so much farther to travel." All three prizes were won by the same person.

With continued levity she cites the offer of "handsome prizes for really handsome designs for hot-dog stands." But out here where the hot-dog and soft drink stands are year around propositions and where there are hundreds of them that idea appeals to us as a good and serious proposition. Not that we would want all the hot-dog stands after the same pattern, a thing to which the hot-dog stand managers never would agree anyhow because their uniqueness and even horror is their method of attraction, but it would be quite worth while to establish a standard of beauty for the construction of the road side stands and make it pay. Would we stop any more readily at a Greek temple than an unpainted, clapboard shack when our stomachs craved the hot-dog?

A headline says "Kollogg to Fight Limits on Treaty." What's all this strife about treaties?

TRAIN COMPETITION

If you ask the average easterner to name the country's finest "crack" trains, he probably will name the Broadway Limited and the Twentieth Century and let it go at that. Few easterners realize that the really luxurious, speedy trains are found, not in the east, but on the lines west of Chicago.

The Chicago & Northwestern is now advertising its Corn King Limited, running between Chicago, Des Moines, Sioux City and Omaha, as "the finest train in the world." Whether the train actually rates that title we don't know, never having ridden on it; but the western lines have many others to compete with it.

There is, for instance, the Oriental Limited of the Great Northern. There is the Olympian of the Milwaukee; the Overland Limited of the Union Pacific; the Golden State Limited of the Southern Pacific; the Chief, of the Santa Fe; the North Coast Limited of the Northern Pacific; the Panama Limited of the Illinois Central. All of these are magnificent trains. Let the easterner, who thinks the addition of a club car and a car with valet and maid services makes a train a "crack," take a trip on one of them. He'll have his eyes opened.

A Message

San Diego Union

A message to Mars will be accepted for transmission by the British government's post-office radio service next Wednesday, at a tariff of 26 cents per word. Cable dispatches from London, describing this remarkable transaction, make it perfectly plain, however, that the government does not guarantee delivery. The sender is a Dr. Mansfield Robinson, telepathist, who believes that he has already been in communication with a Martian woman who goes by the non-euphonious name of Gomarura. The government radio service of course does not take the claim seriously—or, rather, it does not take the claim either seriously or otherwise. All that it takes is the 26 cents per word for use of its radio transmitter.

The incident is interesting, partly because it is ingenious and fantastic, but partly also because it furnishes a wholesome contrast to many more common schemes for communication with other worlds. The British episode is a perfectly honest one.

Dr. Robinson spends his own money to send his own message, through the mediumship chosen by himself—the radio. The proprietors of the radio permit Dr. Robinson to pick his own wave-length, dictate his message, but they tell him frankly that delivery of the message is quite another matter and cannot yet be guaranteed. They do not say it is impossible, but they do not promise what they do not know they can perform.

As an honest experiment, communication with Mars or communication with whatever world may exist beyond death, commands a certain respect. But when it is a commercial transaction, promising—for the money in it—a result that cannot yet be verified, it is fakery and outright fraud.

Ex-Empress Marie of Russia

Detroit Free Press

The life of Marie, former empress of Russia, who died on Saturday in a castle near Copenhagen, at the age of 81, early became enmeshed in the tragic fortunes of the Romanoffs.

Marie was a princess of 17, daughter of King Christian IX and Queen Louise of Denmark, when she was elected as the betrothed of Prince Nicholas of Russia, eldest son of Czar Alexander II. Nicholas died, but on his deathbed he had expressed a wish that she marry his brother Alexander. Fate had tried to spare her, but she had no alternative. Very reluctantly, as she later confessed, married Alexander.

A dark, confused epoch in Romanoff history culminated in the assassination of Emperor Alexander II in 1881. For 13 years thereafter Marie was to share the throne with her husband, who seemed determined to avenge the death of his father. His own death occurred in 1894, when the last of the Romanoffs, her son Nicholas, was crowned.

The story of the butchery of Nicholas II and his family at Ekaterinburg, in 1918, is fresh in the memory of the living generation of men. It came as the coup de grace of destiny to his mother, and it spelled the utter collapse of the Romanoff edifice to autocracy. In her exile, Marie never seemed able to recognize the turn of events in Russia as a reality. In a state of deluded mentality, she cherished to the end a belief that Nicholas was in hiding in Siberia and that he would come forth sooner or later to restore the rule of the Romanoffs. Perhaps few women of former rulers could have endured so long without an intellectual breakdown. Marie lived to the ripe old age of four score years and one, loaded with reminiscences of grim calamities which began when she was a bright-eyed, pink-cheeked girl in her native Denmark.

REPARATION

I have never indulged in a campaign dispute And never, I'm certain, I shall. In this coming November I don't give a hoot If my friends support Hoover or Al. But I feel that the Indians weren't treated quite right When our forebears came swarming in And grabbed all the woods and the rivers in sight. So I hope Charley Curtis gets in. HIS ancestors owned all this vast U. S. A. When OURS first arrived on this shore To take the east coast without parley or pay. And then to trek westward for more. And now you and I and our children and wives Are basking in luxury's lap, And are leading effete but most livable lives While the Red Man is backed off the map. It may be that Tomahawks flew pretty thick And the warwhoop shrieked hoarse alarms, But even so white folks would fight pretty quick If somebody was swiping our farms. I don't say the Indians were brilliant or wise Or could rise to great national fame But no honest person I've talked with denies That they were no the job when we came. I am strong for Joe Robinson; that I'll admit But his sire's were not chased from their land When the white man announced we were vastly more fit To order, to plan and command. This is not designed as a partisan tract But Poor Lo took a sock on the chin, A blow which I own I would never retract— Still I hope Charley Curtis gets in.

Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

THIS OR THAT

La Fontaine poetized the fable of the Ant and the Grasshopper. When the grasshopper applied to the ant for some of the store that he had laid up for winter the ant asked: "What have you been doing all summer?" "I have been singing," said the grasshopper. "Then you can dance all winter," replied the ant.

This fable teaches us that we can't have everything, we can't play every instrument in the orchestra, if we have this we can't have that.

Carl Akeley, the famous explorer and big game hunter, who died in Africa while collecting specimens for the American Museum of Natural History, was buried on Mount Mikeno in Uganda.

It is related that while on another trip he killed his biggest gorilla on this mountain. Looking down at him he said: "I envy that chap his funeral pyre. I wish I could be buried here when I die."

Akeley had his choice, after a life of adventure that would have been the choice of some men and not of others.

He decided in favor of thrills. His stay-at-home fellows decided in favor of comforts. Each gained something and lost something by his decision.

John Ruskin says somewhere: "Do you know that if you read this you can't read that?"

What is true of reading is true of everything else.

At the long series of crossroads, which is life, we have to make our choice. We can't go both ways.

We have to choose this or that.

We choose between exploring strange lands and enjoying the comforts of home, as well as between thousands of other things.

In every town there are men who have made opposite choices. There is the rich man who has given his time to making money; and the man who has been a companion to his children and stayed a bookkeeper all his life.

There are those who spend their money as they went, had their good time, and in old age camped on the questions and unwilling relatives; and those who scrimped and in old age had a feeling of self-respect, and the reassurance that kept them from enjoying their wealth.

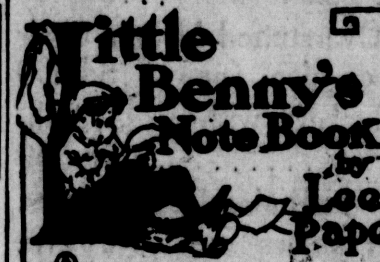

It is altogether fitting and proper that every man should be allowed to make a fool of himself in the way he pleases. There should be a single restriction. Otherwise the life is off.

After he has made his choice, and had his fun, there should be no complaining because he chose not what he never paid for.

If he had a good time while others did in longer hours at work he can't kick if they get more money or a greater share of power.

If he danced while others toiled, he can't be sorry if they know more than he does. And if he lived the life of a bookkeeper, he can't be sorry if he has more than he does. And if he lived the life of a bookkeeper, he can't be sorry if he has more than he does.

Pop and ma and my sister Gladie was all reading in the living room, pop starting to laff and saying, There's no use lawfing, you cant beat Dickens, authors may come and authors may go, but a classic is a classic. "Wats a classic, pop? I sed, and pop sed, A classic is a book that is red by your grandparents and your grandchildren, though not at the same time, naturally. A classic has more sents than common ordinary books, and generally more words too just for good measure. Dickens books are classics, how about that, fokes? he sed.

Yes indeed, ma sed. Charles Dickens was a grate writer and no home should be without his books. Our home certenly hasent bin since we got his complete works many years ago and cuckoo clock with a 3 years subscription to a magazine called Sunny Hours, although the magazine went out of circulation about 4 months afterwards and wasent worth reading anyway, and the cuckoo clock, breethed its last when Benny pulled it down on his head as a baby, but Charles Dickens still remains a grate writer, she sed.

Yes, he battled out some swell yarns, you haff to hand it to the old boy, Gladie sed, and pop sed, Lissen to this, fokes, its wate Mr. Pickwick goes skating. I want to read you some of this.

Not now, William, Im in the midst of a story, ma sed, and Gladie sed, Not now, father, I dont want to lose the thred of this thing Im reading.

Wats is it? pop sed. And he looked at Gladie's magazine, saying, Unvarnished Stories, yee gods, Unvarnished Stories in preference to Dickens. And he looked at ma's magazine, saying, Lovers Confessions, how sweetly uplifting. Speaking of classics, yee gods, he sed.

I just picked it up at a casual newstand for idis curiosity, ma sed. I dont expect to read it all through by any means, she sed, and pop sed, Thats rite, by all means skip one or 2 of the smaller avvertisements, yee gods Im going ware I can find some real literary people to bowl with.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

HERETIC'S PROGRESS

Heretics are short lived. This is not because they are hampered and hushed by the autocrats, not because they run to cover in cowardly fashion when they see that their heresies will make them outcasts, but because most heretics are not born of a hunger for freedom from all that the spirit of autocracy means, but simply of a desire to break from some particular autocracy—in politics, in religion, and so on.

By and large, heretics are not fundamentally more tolerant than the autocrats against which they rebel.

Their heated heresies quickly cool into orthodoxies. They invest the formulas of their rebellion with sacrosanctity.

They turn from the practice of heresy to the pursuit of heretics.

Fleeing the despotism of living men, they fall victim to the despotism of their own dead words.

Defying an old uniformity of belief, they demand a new uniformity of belief.

There is one thing, more than all else, I think, that makes men who have protested against intolerance begin the practice of intolerance the day after they win the freedom to think their own thoughts, and that is the almost universal belief that beliefs can be taken on and off like a cloak and the progress of an idea is marked by getting many people, for one reason or another, to sign up for it and say "yes" to it.

The lovely tolerance of the first few months of our heresies would be longer lived if we really believed the following contention of Havelock Ellis:

"We are beginning to realize that there are no formulas to suit all men, but that every man must be the artist of his own philosophy."

"A man must not swallow more beliefs than he can digest."

"No man can absorb all the traditions of the past."

"What he fills himself with will only be a poison to work to his own auto-intoxication."

"We see, also, that all arguments are meaningless until we gain personal experience."

If we could only learn not to try to force men's beliefs, and be willing to let them grow with men's experience.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

"ALWAYS HOLLERIN"

Jakie sat on the top of the coal bin down at the corner grocery. The last bell had rung and the streets were clear of the last straggling school child. Still Jakie sat there kicking his heels.

Mr. Jinks, the good natured grocer came out of his store and eyed the little figure perched on the coal bin. Jakie didn't lift his eyes. He kept kicking the bin with his stout heels.

"Jakie, the bell rang."

"Yea, I heard it."

"Aren't you going to school?"

"Nope. Not today."

"Are you sick?"

"Nope. I just ain't going."

"But the turtan officer will get you. And what will your mother say?"

"W, he can't get me. And she's always hollerin'."

"Who? Your mother?"

"Yep. And the teacher. And everybody. They're always hollerin'."

"I'm goin' to take a day off. Pa says he's going to take a day off soon, too, 'cause he's tired of all this hollerin'."

He says the boss is hollerin' and the policeman he's hollerin' and the cars, they're hollerin', and when he comes home I'm hollerin'."

"How can I help it when everybody's hollerin' at me? Seems as 'I ought to get a rest. So I'm getting it. I'm not goin' today."

"Hmph. M-m-m-m. Come in and have a piece of chocolate or maybe an orange. You'll feel better."

I have to stand a lot of hollerin' myself. The baker was late with the rolls this morning and I've had nothing but complaints all morning about it. Just one morning he's late and—"

"Yea. Just one time you do something and everybody's hollerin'."

Everybody's a hollerin'."

"But by and by it blows over. They mean all right. Eat another bun. I got plenty on account of the baker's being late. And then you better run along to school. You know how it'll be if you're out a day. There'll be worse hollerin'."

"Can't get in now. Gate's locked."

"I can boost you over the fence and—"

"Yea. Then I can skin into the basement and up on the lines when they're coming down from as—" sembly. Yea. All right. Thanks." Mr. Jinks rubbed the back of his head thoughtfully. "What good does all the hollerin' DO?" said he to the cat on the window sill. But she washed her face and paid no heed.
